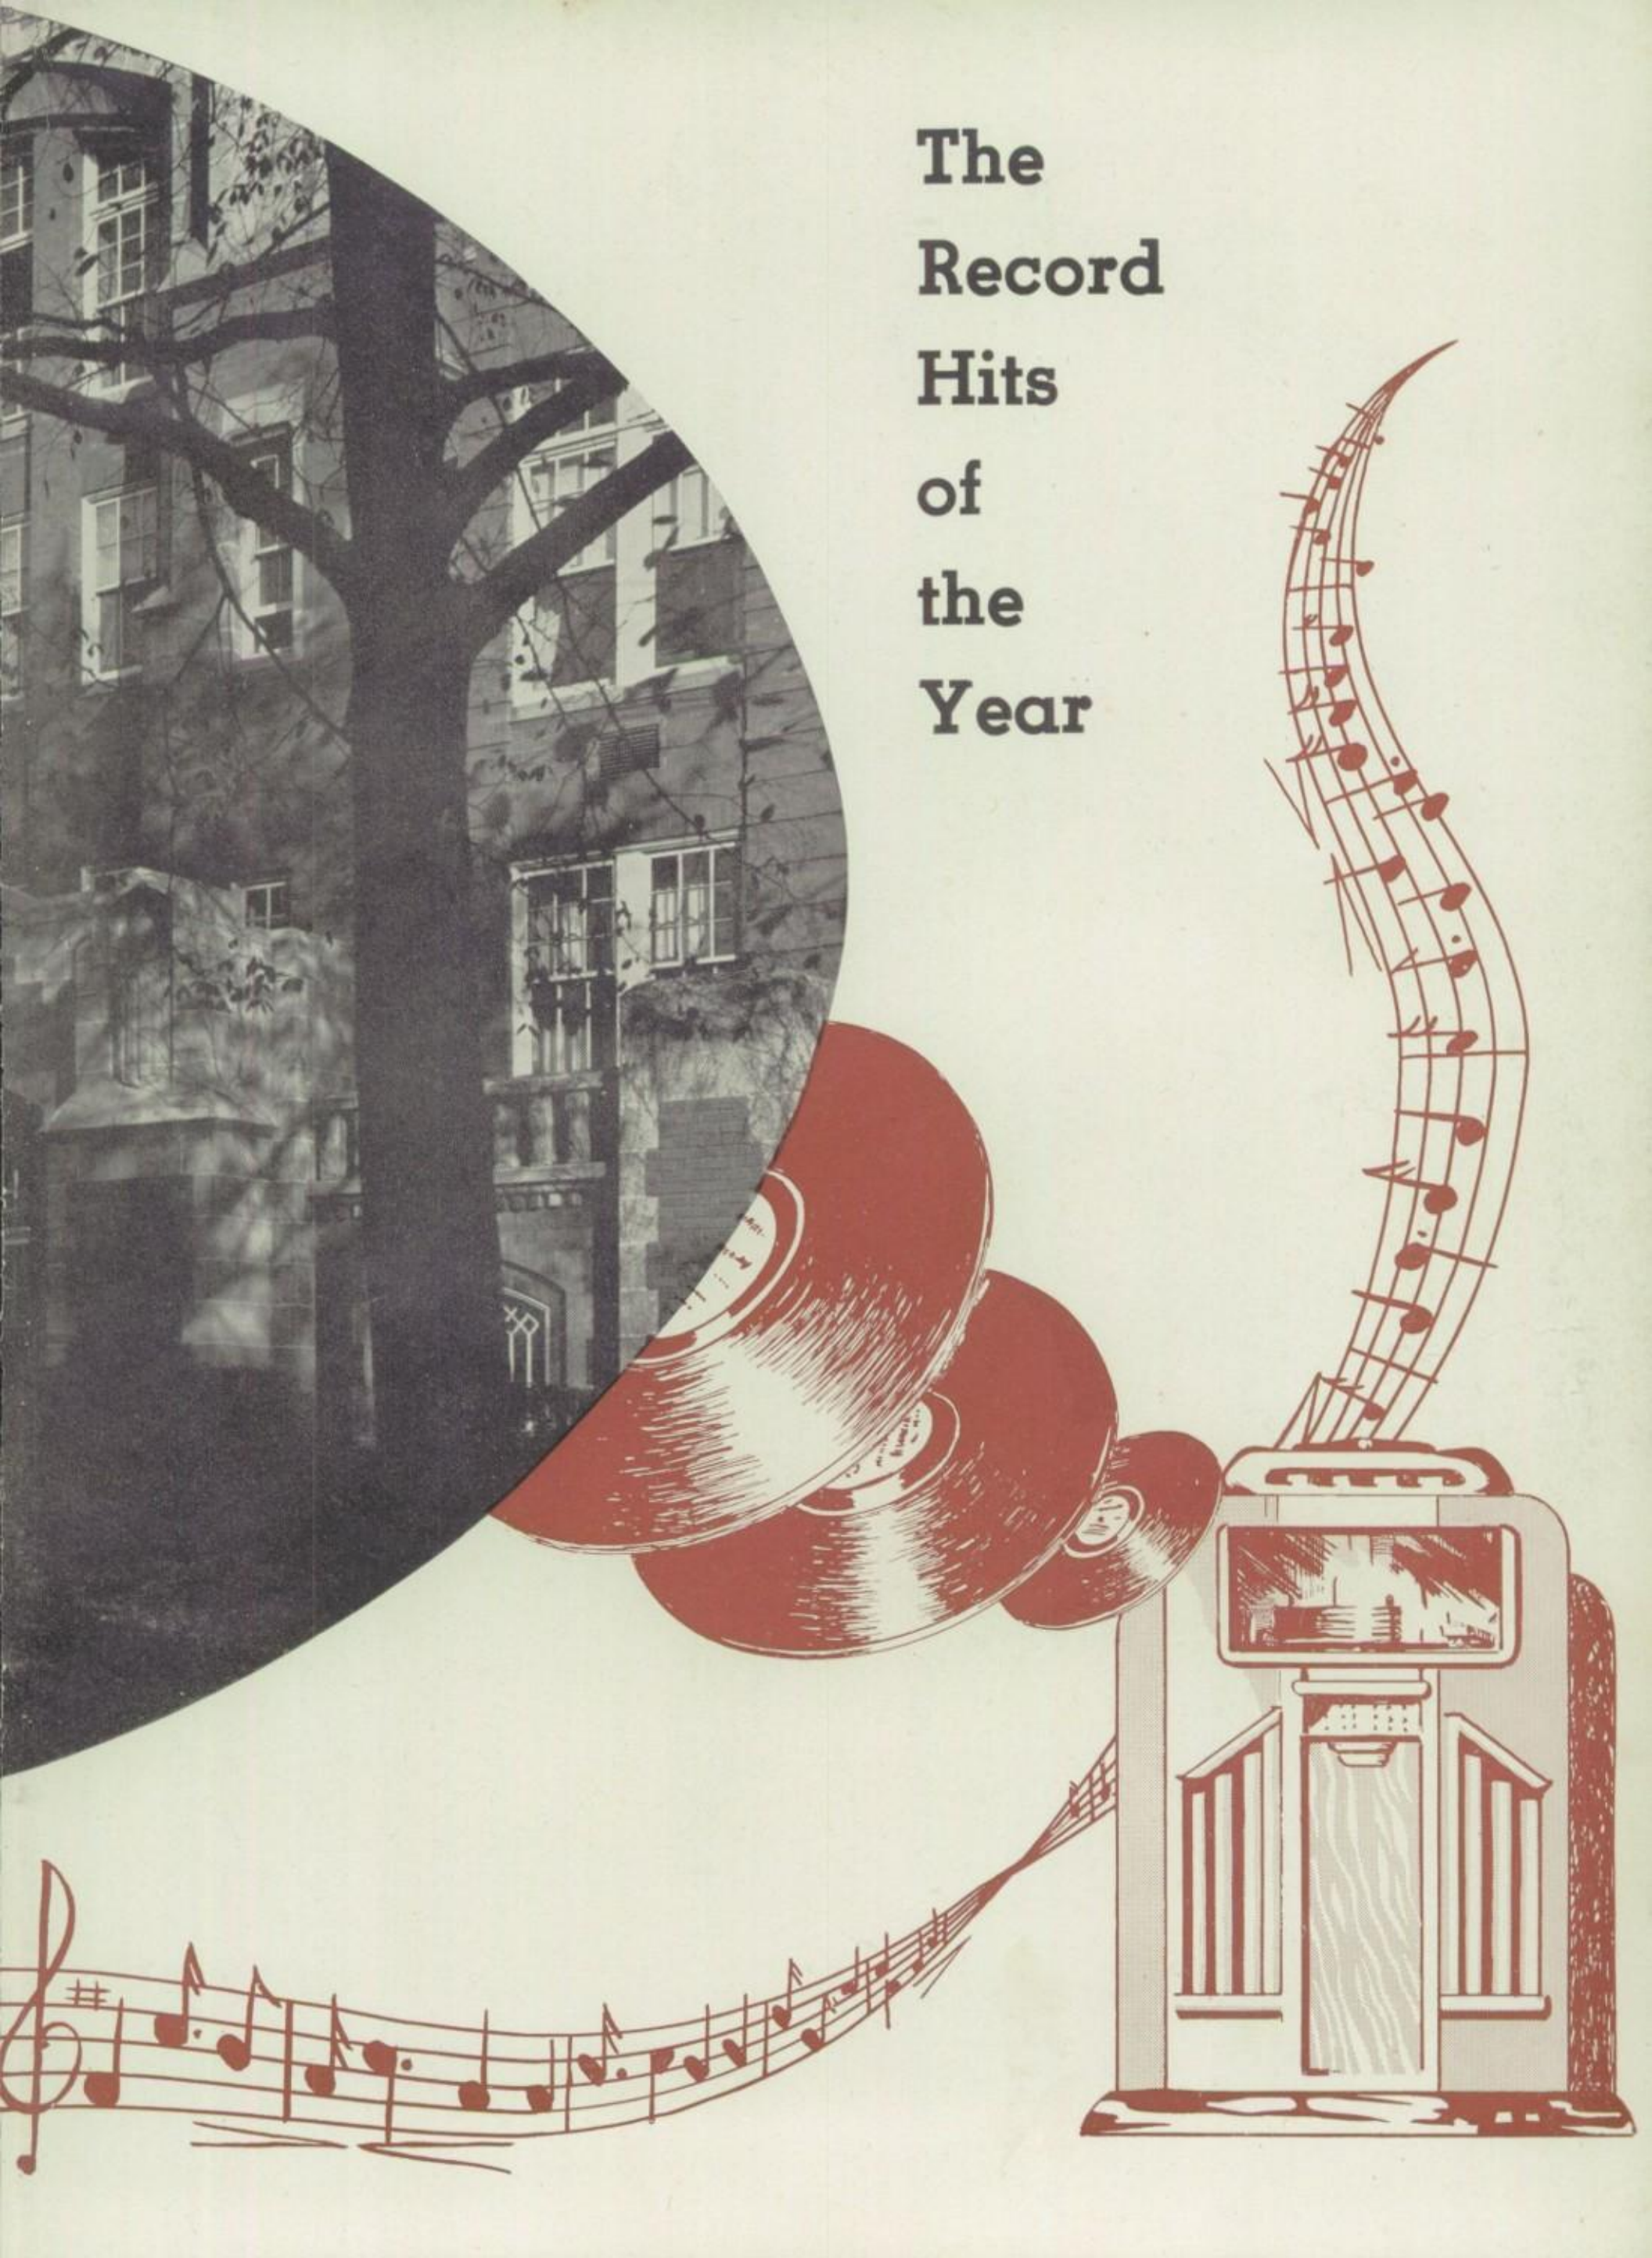
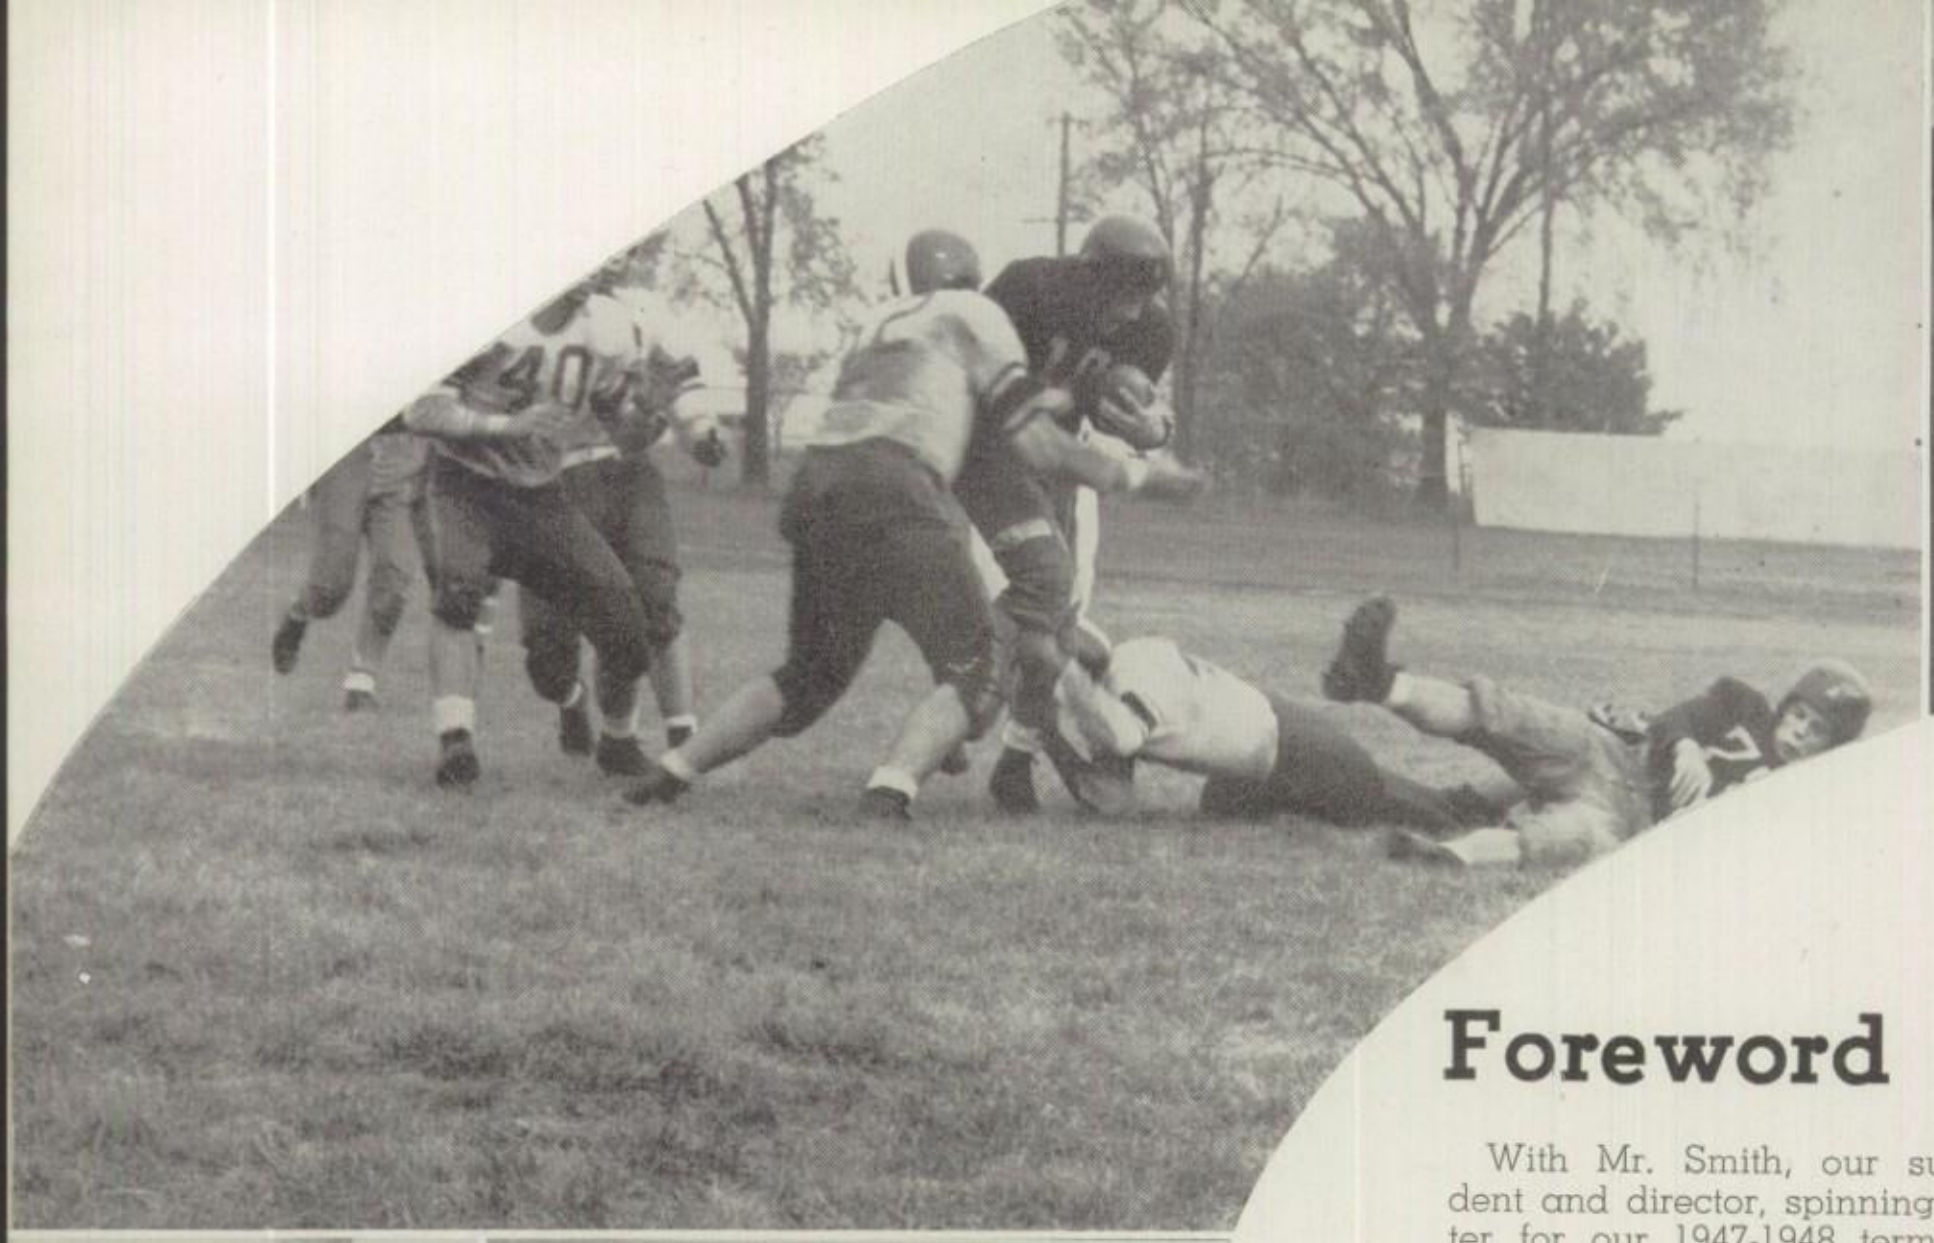
The Record Hits of the Year





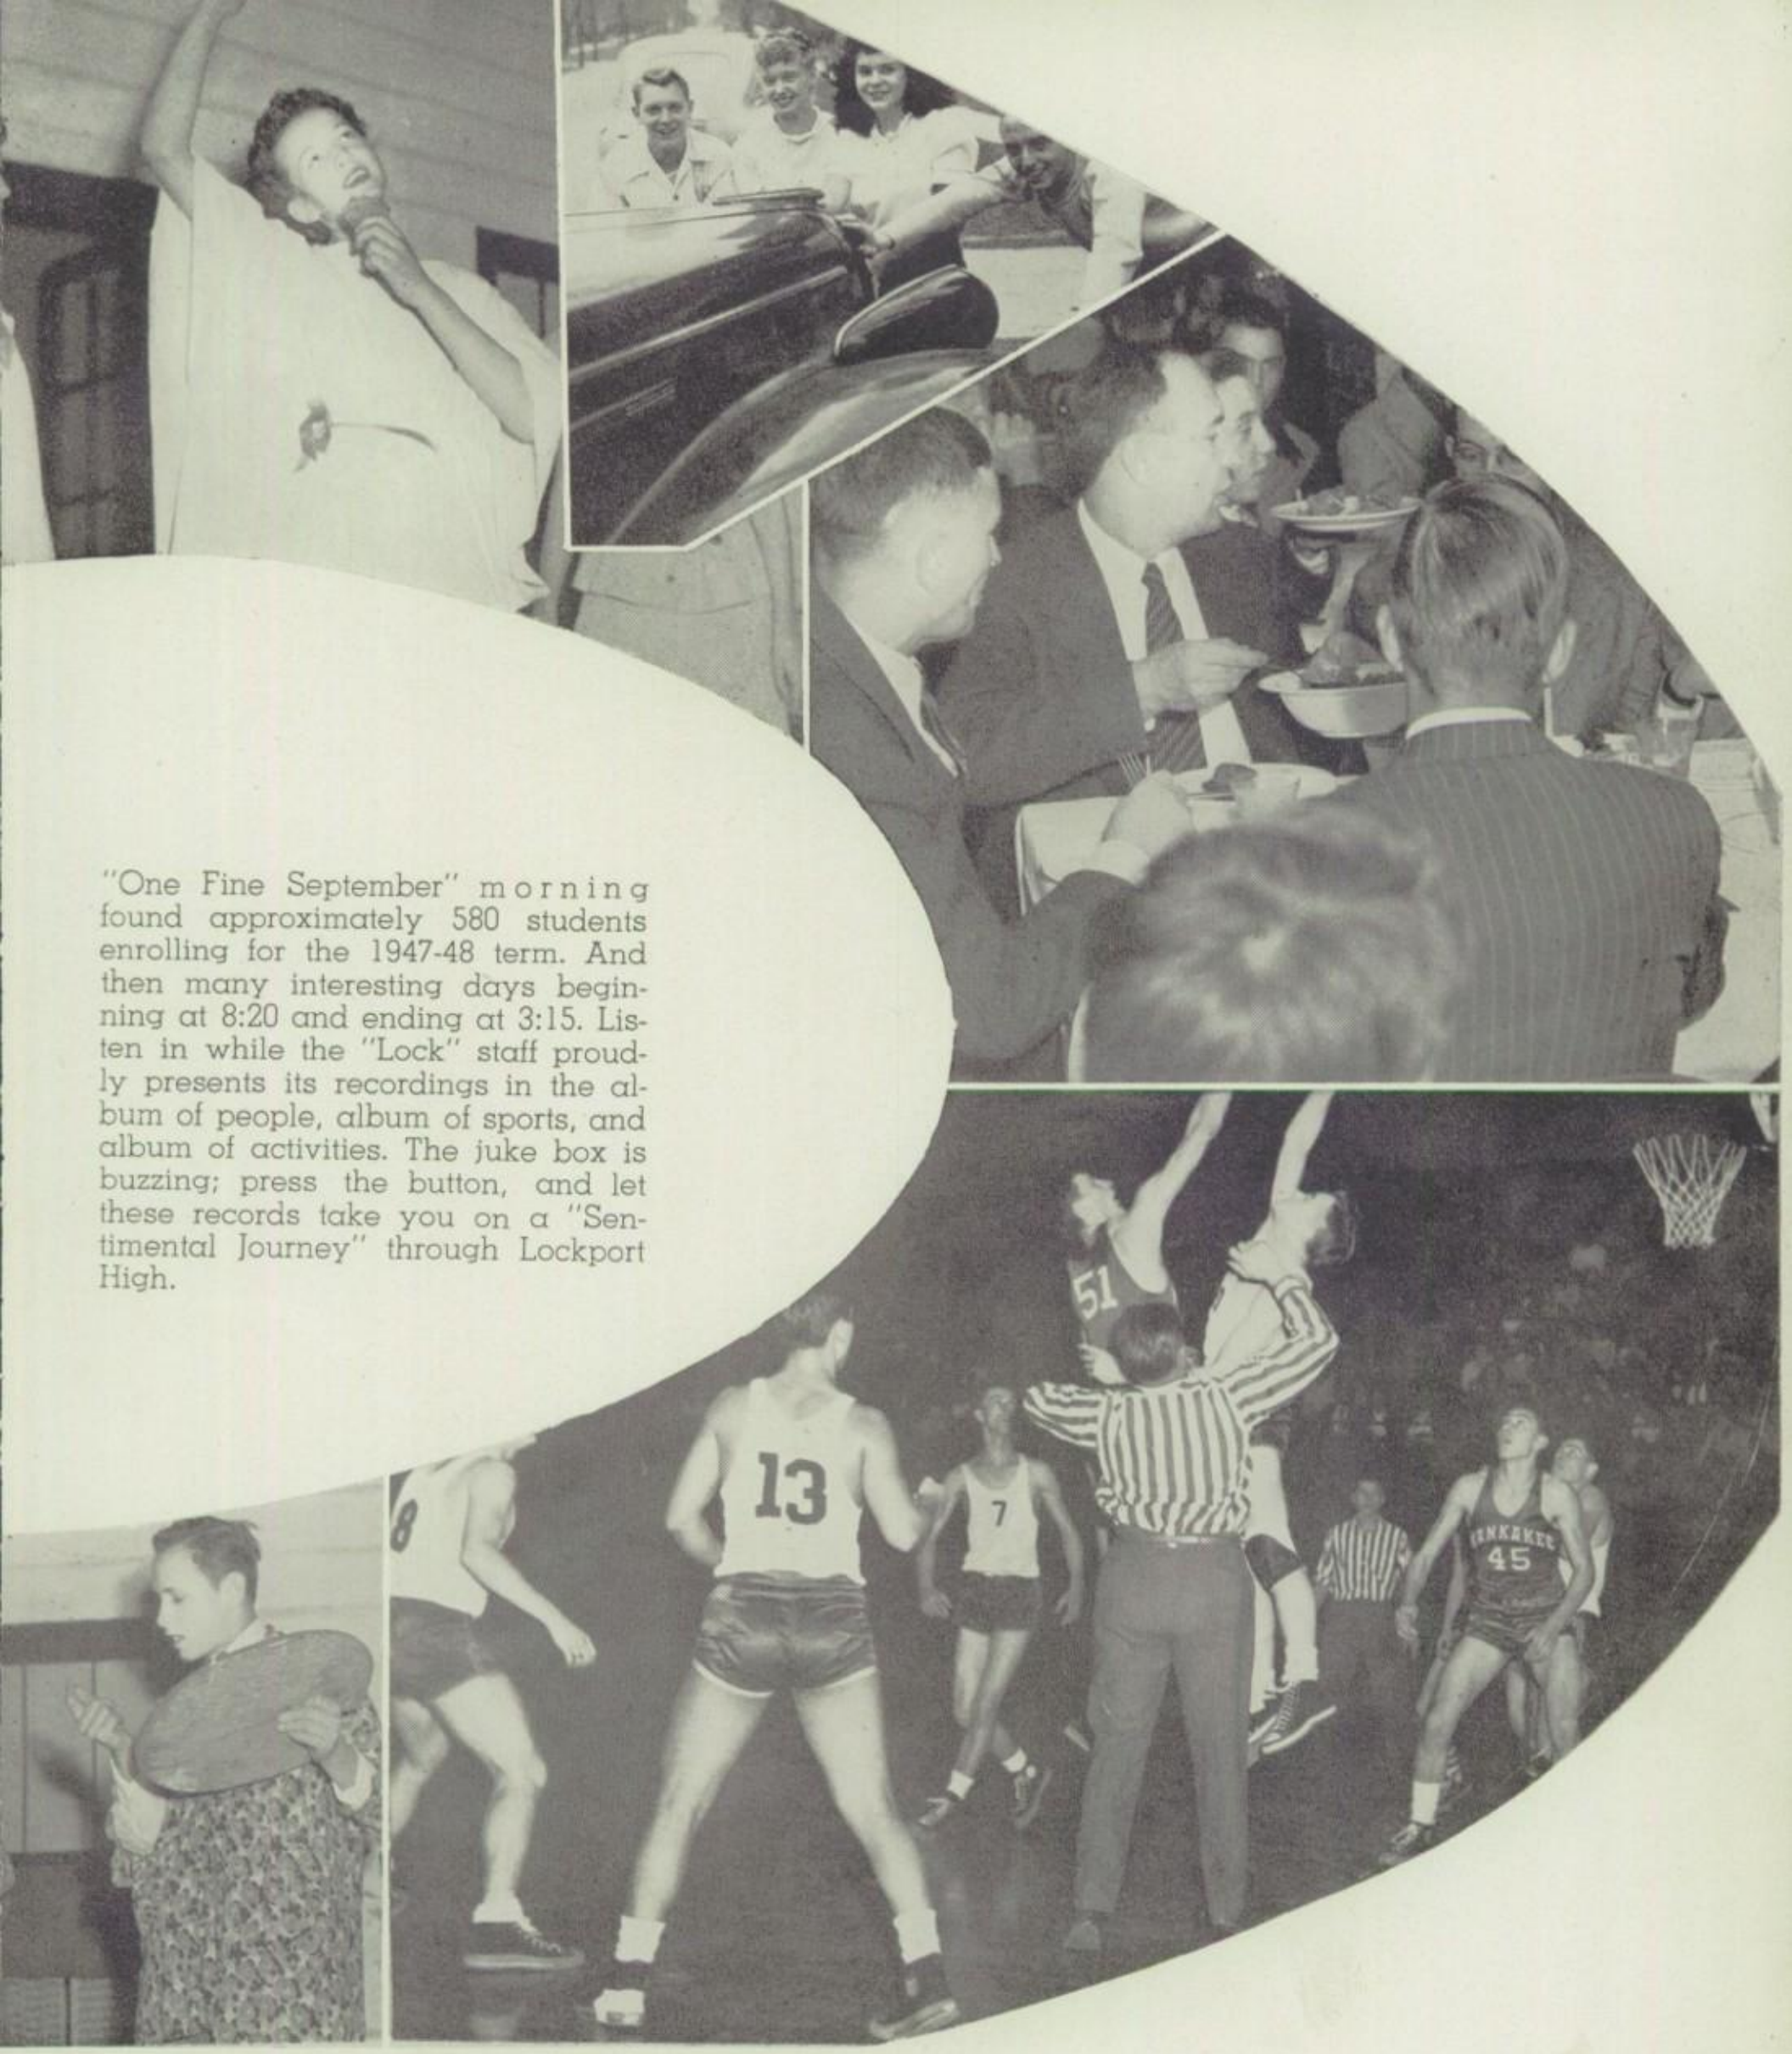
Foreword . . .

With Mr. Smith, our superintendent and director, spinning the platter for our 1947-1948 term, rhythm and harmony co-ordinated the many activities of our school. In spite of Petrillo's ban on musical recordings, a record of smash hits was scored in another successful year of student-faculty relationships.

Three Albums of the Year

ALBUM of PEOPLE

Page 6 presents the administration, faculty, and classes which provide the themes for all subsequent records.



"One Fine September" morning found approximately 580 students enrolling for the 1947-48 term. And then many interesting days beginning at 8:20 and ending at 3:15. Listen in while the "Lock" staff proudly presents its recordings in the album of people, album of sports, and album of activities. The juke box is buzzing; press the button, and let these records take you on a "Sentimental Journey" through Lockport High.

ALBUM of ACTIVITIES

Page 44 shows us in the whirl of activities with the recording of organizations, plays, dances and the over-all merriment.

ALBUM of SPORTS

Page 66 records a satisfactory year athletically—not phenomenal but one that makes Lockport a formidable opponent.

A Sweet Sonata in Education . . .

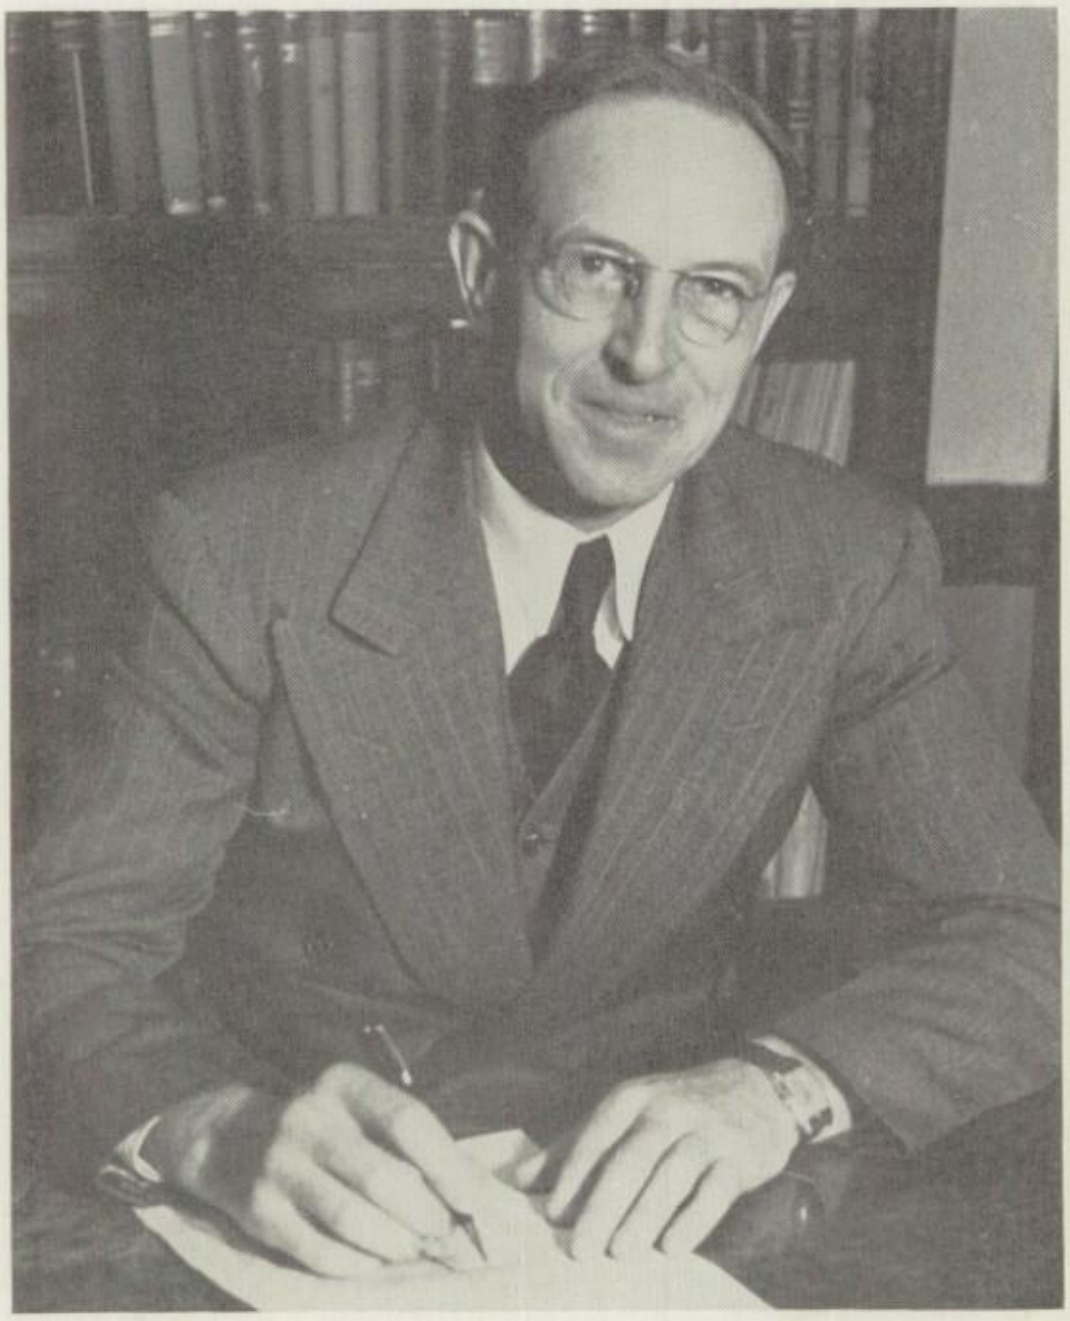
A sweet sonata in education is conducted by Mr. Smith who has so ably directed the activities of Lockport Township High School for the past twenty-three years. Superintendent Smith is well-known in educational circles having been recognized in "Who's Who in American Education" and "Who's Who in the Central States."

Mr. Smith prepared for his educational career at McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, but his education was interrupted when he was called to service in World War I. Upon his return he transferred to the University of Chicago where he continued his education. Recognizing the value of a practical education, Mr. Smith has travelled extensively throughout the United States. Golf and deep sea fishing are his two favorite hobbies.

A note of interest worth recording is Mr. Smith's recent visit to the United Nations meeting at Lake Success. That was just one of the many interesting sidelights which he enjoyed while attending the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Proof of his civic pride and community interest is evidenced in the fact that he was at one time vice president of the Will County Tuberculosis Association, a member of the Board of Governors of the Illinois Association for the Crippled, a past president of the Northeastern Division of the Illinois Education Association, and of the Will County Superintendents' and Principals' Association.

The graduates of 1948 will remember Mr. Smith as an interested educator who kept Lockport High in tune with the times.



Superintendent James M. Smith, B. A., M. A.

Mr. Marion A. DeSandre, Dr. Ralph B. Harpham, Mr. Ernest H. Swenson, Dr. Emil J. Viskocil, President Edward F. Worst, Superintendent James M. Smith, and Secretary Glenn E. Miller discuss current school issues during a monthly session.

Stouthearted Men . . .

Behind the scene activities which made Lockport High's melodies harmonious were the functions the Board of Education performed. As the planners of our school record album, these men reflected the spirit ot democracy so important in our educational system. The president of our board, Mr. Worst, is a retired instructor of Industrial Arts. He has served on our high school board for eighteen years. Dr. Viskocil, a doctor of Medicine, has served for twelve years. Dr. Harpham, a dentist, has served for ten years. Mr. Swenson, who is a building contractor, has been a board member for nine years. And Mr. DeSandre is a machine shop superintendent. For fourteen years he has helped solve our educational problems. Lawyer Miller, a member for twelve years, serves as secretary.

As our musical appreciation develops through the years, so has our appreciation increased for these men who have devoted their time and best efforts so willingly. They are all "jolly good fellows."

There Are Smiles That Make Us Happy . . .

These are the kind we students rate from our secretaries, Marjorie Frederickson and Jane Eungard, when we toe the mark. Erring students know them as human lie detectors. Mimeographing millions of tests, at least they seem that numerous to us, checking attendance, handling correspondence, and answering many phone calls are just a few of the tasks that come their way. E+ for efficiency should be recorded on their report cards.

M. Frederickson and J. Eungard examine student's personnel card.

An Apple for the Teacher . . .

"An apple for the teacher will often do the trick," but at Lockport High we found that we also needed to polish the books. Our teachers proved themselves good sports and donated many hours to our extra-curricular activities. Now the needle is in the groove; the Lock staff spins the wax and proudly presents our faculty and friends.

Daymond J. Aiken (B.A., M.S.), one of our teacher-authors, directed the student council in addition to helping us know our figures in his Algebra I and II, geometry, trigonometry, and physics classes. Our reward for a problem correctly solved was, "That's just slick."

We all love to drive the family car, and Howard T. Binstock (B.S.), a newcomer to the faculty this year, taught us how to "keep 'em rolling" in his auto mechanics classes.

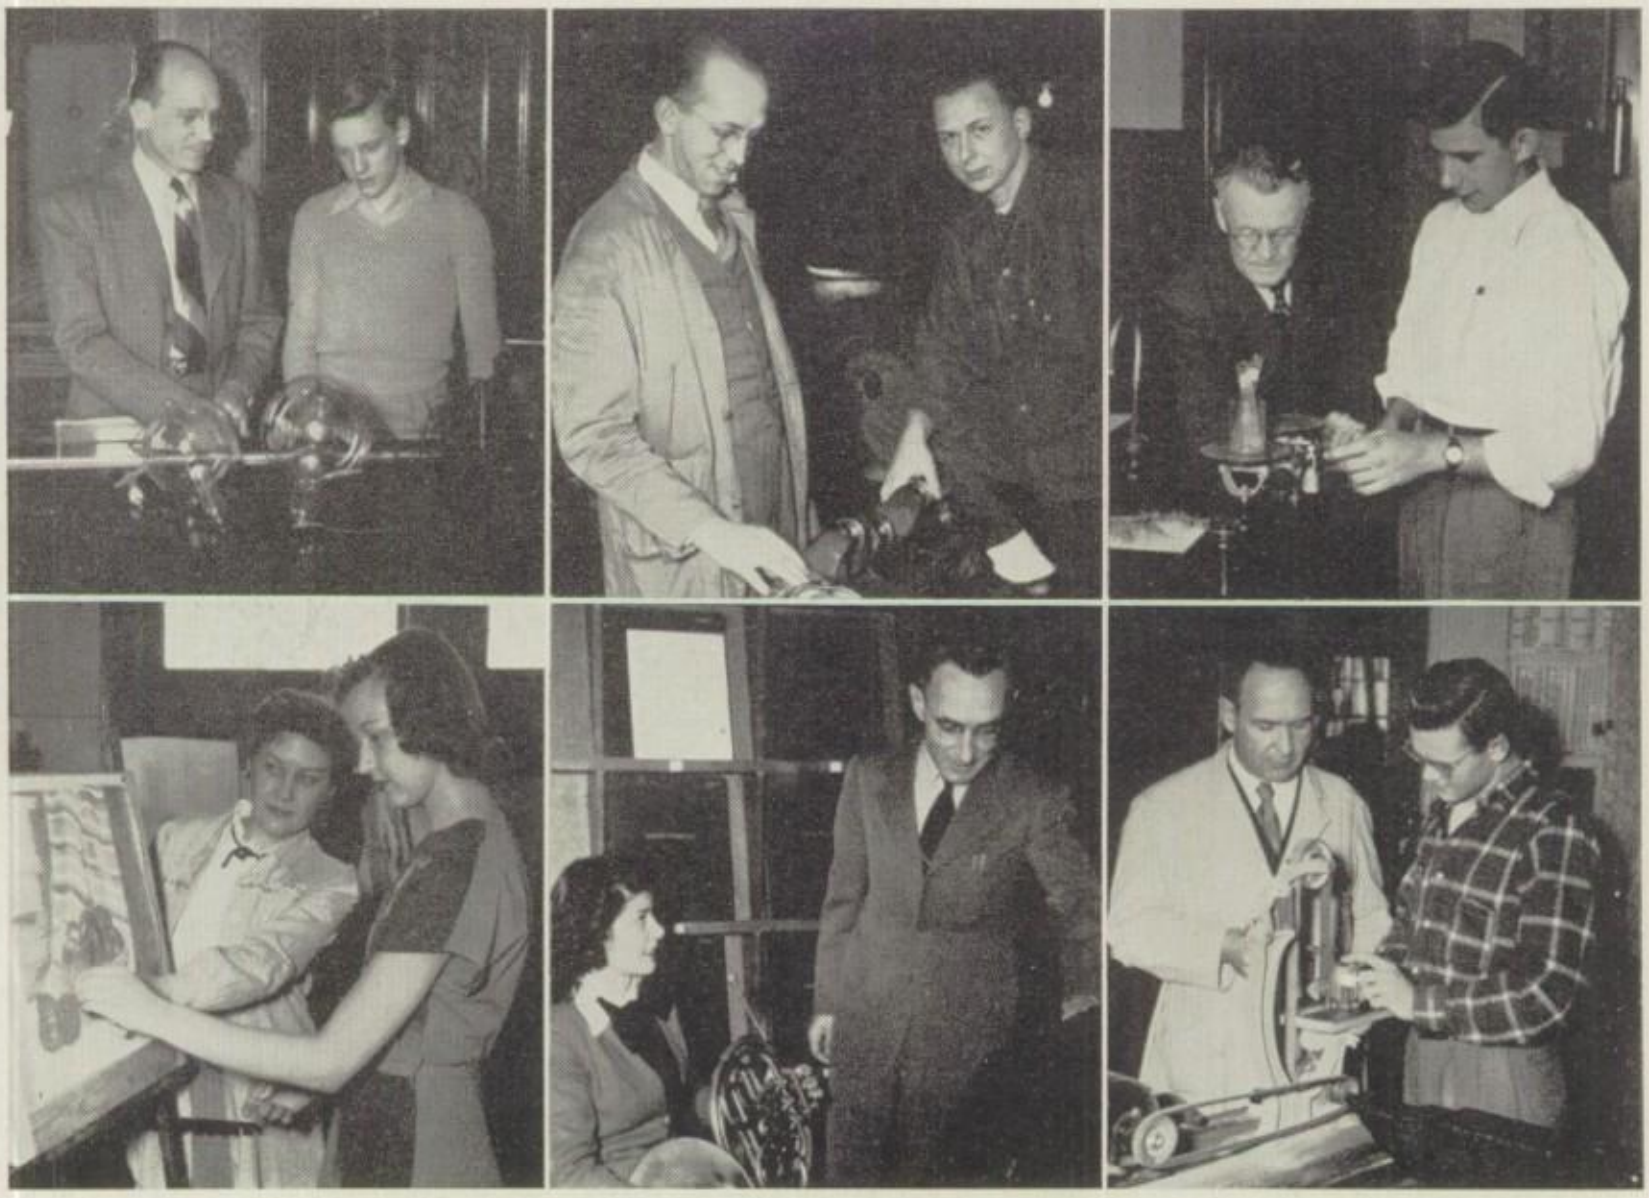
With his general science, biology, and chemistry classes, Clinton O. Bismarck (B. A.), is just "Bizzy." School pranksters know well the meaning of his ninth hour classes.

An appreciation for the higher things in life was gained after our four story climb to the Art I and II, art appreciation, home living, and interior decorating classes of Catherine J. Bottino (B.S., A.S.).

To the band, chorus, and orchestra Ernest O. Caneva (B.A.) is known as "Ernie." Lockport High knows him as a music maestro who always conducts a winner with our high school band.

We know "his bark is worse than his bite," but we also know that Raymond Cherry's (B.S., M.A.) metal shop means good hard work. Combining business with his hobby, he introduced a new plastics course.

TOP ROW: Mr. Aiken explains the nature of x-ray tubes to John Gannaway. Louis Hudek and Mr. Binstock take a minute off from engine repairs. Douglas Smith calculates weights as Mr. Bismarck supervises. SECOND ROW: Mrs. Bottino demonstrates art of shading to Jerry Allen. Mr. Caneva counts time for Anna Larson. Jim Montgomery learns operation of belt sander from Mr. Cherry.



Florice Cherry (B.A.) teaches us that the United States is a grand place to live in her American and world history classes. Her frequent quizzes keep us on our toes.

For our second term Jessie Eggman (B.A.), a neighbor from Joliet, taught us the practical side of maintaining a home in her food classes. The latest in new spring outfits were the efforts of her costume design and clothing classes.

"Manana" may have been on the hit parade, but it was no excuse in Lucile Emmon's (Ph.B., M.A.) Spanish or French classes. American literature was her specialty in the English field. (Not photographed).

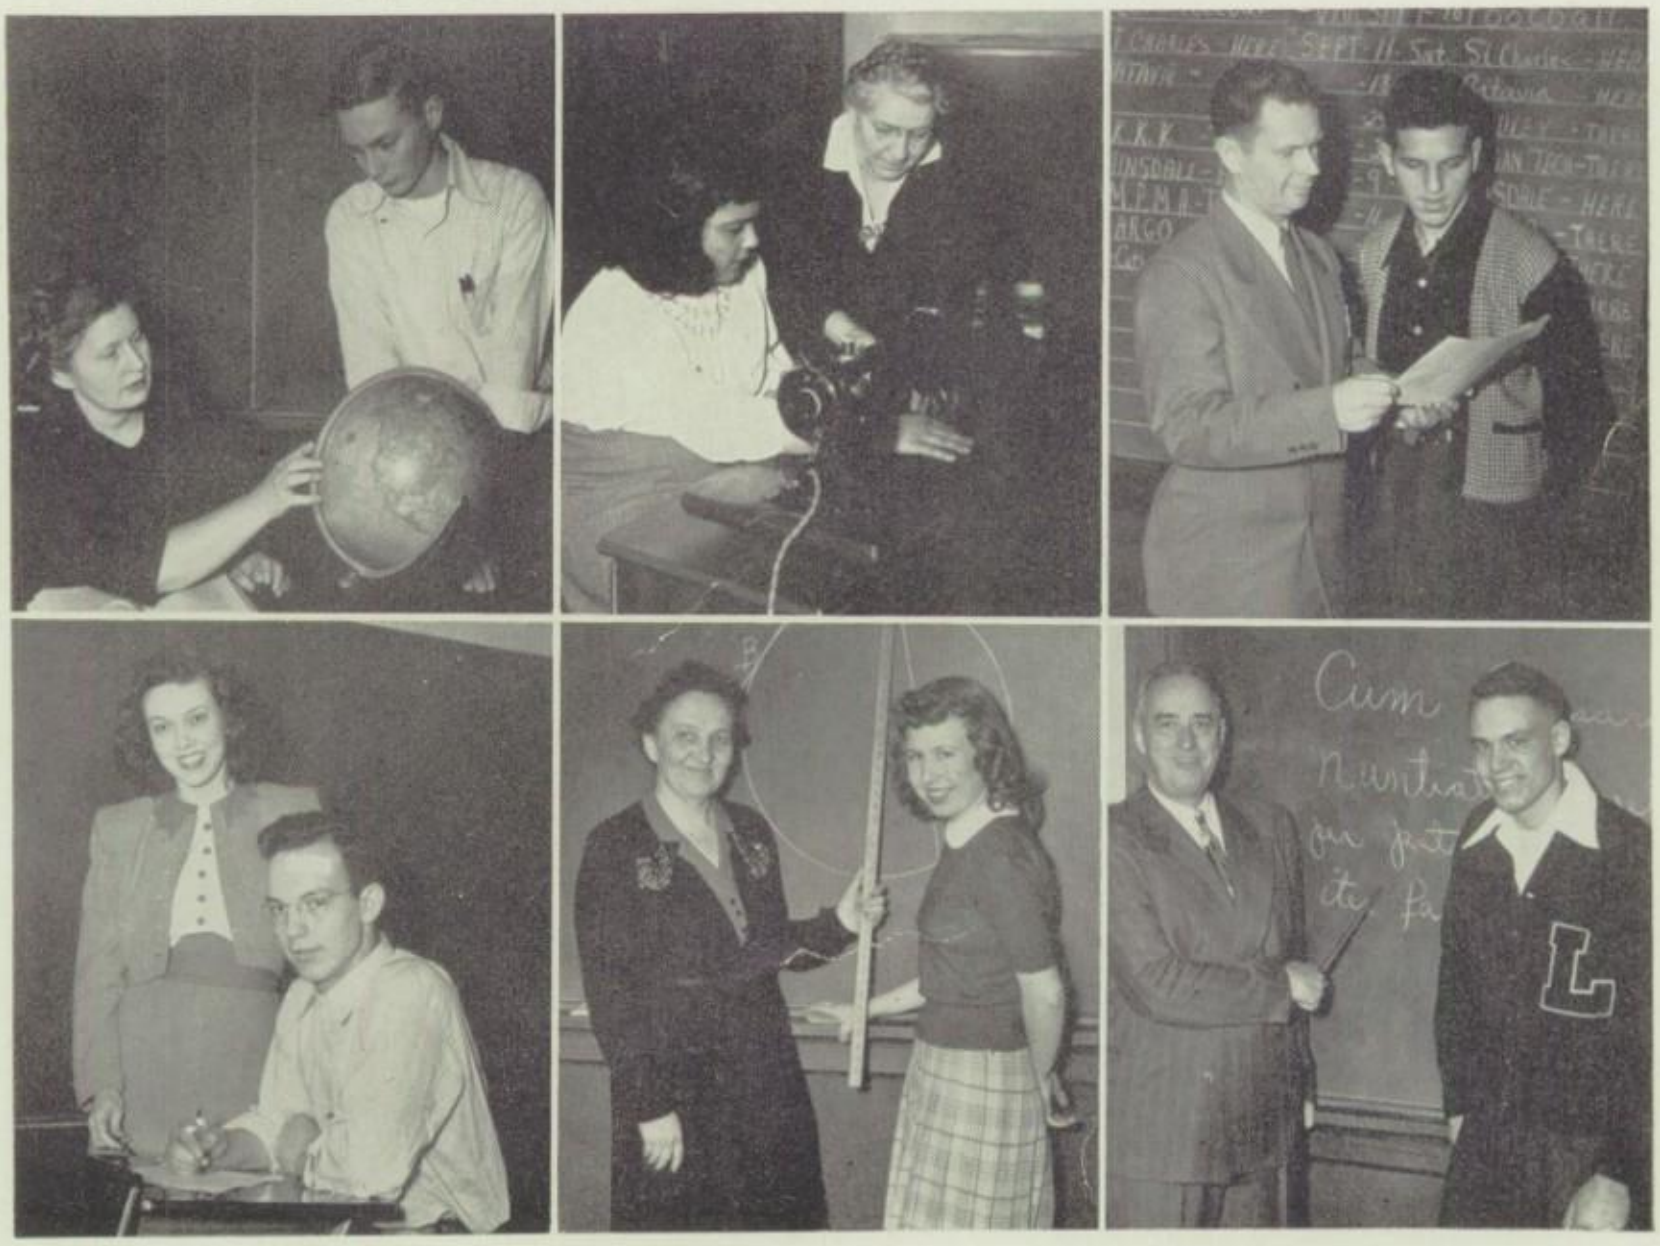
Edward Flink's (B.A., M.A.) civics and economic classes gave future Senator Claghorns a chance in senate classroom sessions. As our dean of boys he coped with problem children. As director of athletics he arranged the sports activities of the school. Even though this should have kept him busy, he conducted a water safety class after school.

Alice Gleason (B.S.), better known to us as Miss Duggan, took her sophomore history class globe trotting, and her senior English class did a little imaginary travelling as they studied modern literature. Her freshman classes concentrated on reading and writing. Helping the "Lock" literary staff to develop a flair for writing plus co-sponsoring the Junior Red Cross kept her busy.

Always willing to lend a helping hand, Lorina Goerz (B.A., Ph.M.) really threw life ropes to many of us in algebra and geometry. Teaching general science and co-sponsoring the Junior Red Cross made spare time an unknown quantity to her.

What would our future Hepburns and Barrymores do without the assistance of Alex L. Johnsonius (B.A., M.A.) in the class plays? Latin is not a dead language when he teaches it. His interesting anecdotes and stories in world history added a pleasant note to many of our sophomore years.

TOP: Mrs. Cherry locates an historical city for Chuckie Aumiller. Isabel Grepares receives sewing machine instructions from Mrs. Eggman. Mr. Flink explains an economic theory to Bob Pesavento. BOTTOM: Mrs. Gleason and Gilbert Schade relax for a moment during a make-up period. Miss Goerz explains a complicated geometric problem to Mary Boehme. Mr. Johnsonius translates a Latin passage for Johnny Bachmann—or is it Greek?



Beside Us to Guide Us . . .

She's our "type"-ing teacher, and stenography and secretarial practice take up her school hours. Friday nights quite regularly found her sponsoring school dances. Her ingenuity has helped us to produce prize winning "Locks" for the past three years. At station LOCK we don't even have to mention her name, but for the newcomers who may have just tuned in, it's Mildred Krusa (B.E.), of course.

When Coach Lindberg explains pigskin plays, it is a case of "do as I do," for during his college days, he was a "fightin' Illini" star. Adolescent Charles Atlases build their muscles in his physical education classes. A well-known figure on the campus is "Elmer," the physiology dummy, whom he introduces to the freshmen. His best known alias is "Moose," but "Curly" is a reliable substitute.

Caring for the sick is one of the practical courses in our curriculum which smiling Mary G. Mahoney (R.N.) so pleasantly teaches. "Once in a While" we'll give her a thought in future years as "we raise our families."

Pep personifies Eva M. Olson (B.A.) in her girls' physical training classes. If mermaids are no longer a novelty at Lockport High, it is due to her instructions. A lover of sports, she has conveyed this enthusiasm to many of us with well-planned G.A.A. activities. As dean of girls she deals with the questions of feminine rights.

Beware the dangers of the split infinitive and prepare to suffer the tragedy of "Hamlet" as you enter John L. Pence's (B.A.) junior and senior English classes. Future journalists gain practical experience as he directs their activities in the publication of "The Times."

TOP: Miss Krusa reviews typing technique with Arlene Schultz. Irvin Sudbury climbs the rope while Coach Lindberg supervises. Lucy Vallera and Mrs. Mahoney review fundamentals of first aid. BOTTOM: Stella Alberico receives instructions in basketball scoring from Miss Olson. Mr. Pence explains a grammatical construction to Margaret Blechschmidt. Russell Young learns the correct grip from Coach Rogers.

School can be pleasant if you are in Frank J. Rogers' (B.S., M.S.) world history or physical training classes. His friendly smile is a handshake. An ex-army captain, he has no trouble keeping the boys in line. Besides he gets plenty of homework with those two husky sons of his.

As we timidly entered the library as freshmen, Margaret C. Shepherd kept us from developing a library psychosis as she patiently helped us locate the books. She and Thackeray agree that "Man's best friends are books."

The "Woodpeckers" at Lockport High just "peck out their melodies" in William H. Sterling's (B.S., M.S.) wood shop classes. "In A Little Book Shop" he spends many extra hours supplying student and faculty needs. Students soon learn that his name fits his character.

The best modern techniques are employed by Margaret L. Taylor (B.S.) in her freshman and sophomore English classes. She spun the platter for us many times with recordings of popular American folk songs, Orson Welles' "Julius Caesar," and other classic recordings. Under her guidance the juniors gave a much talked about prom.

Just listing Paul White's (B.S., M.A.) classes prove he's a busy man. Civics, economics, business training, bookkeeping, commercial law, and commercial arithmetic take up his teaching hours.

Sparks flew as Orris S. Young (B.S., B.A., M.A.) taught our boys the fundamentals of electricity. Mechanical drawing is another of his specialties. His initials form his nickname "Osy."

Gleadis Young (B.S.) brought to us the practical experience which she had gained as a home maker when she joined our faculty for the first semester to teach the domestic science classes. Her girls missed her cheery ways when she returned to inactive duty the second semester.

And now the teachers doff their academic caps and prepare for those soothing summer days during which patience aplenty is stored up for Lockport High's new crop. And so the old professors sign off until station FALL checks them in again in September.

Senior Officers

Don Carollo, Secretary; Estelle Shepherd, Vice President; Ray Darin, Treasurer; Jerry Norton, President.

School Days, School Days . . .

Last fall found many of our seniors humming "This Is the Beginning of the End," and memories of that fine September day in 1944 when one hundred and fifty-five "Small Fry" began their high school careers were revived. A mock convention in which President Roosevelt was elected for the fourth term highlighted the activities of that year. In local elections Tad LaBahn led the ticket as president with Don Waldvogel as vice president. Patsy Pickett as treasurer and Don Huising as secretary assisted them capably.

Another year and we were grown-up sophomores. With our fingers in a few more activities we survived the growing pains of this difficult year to emerge as important upper-classmen. President Ben Shulla, Vice President Clarice Reed, Secretary Robert Nordenberg, and Treasurer Ray Darin were our officers.

Local audiences roared at our junior play, "A Date With Judy." And the seniors were the first to admit that our "Mystic Moon Prom" was the tops. President Don Huising, Vice President Carl Muehlbauer, Secretary Don Waldvogel, and Treasurer Thomas Flavin saw to it that the juniors were not unknown. This was the year we selected our class rings.

We finally made it. September 1947 and we were seniors. With poise and efficiency we accepted the responsibilities of our new role. "The Times" and "The Lock" received our best efforts and contributions. We danced at the Junior Red Cross formal and reminisced with the juniors at the "Memories Prom." We played hard at our class picnic at Pottawatomie Park in St. Charles. We sang from our hearts in the operetta "In Grand Old Switzerland." With the strains of "June Comes Around Every Year" we realized that for many of us our school days were no more.

President Jerry Norton, Vice President Estelle Shepherd, Secretary Don Carollo, and Treasurer Ray Darin spun the records for our graduating class, and as we listened to the familiar strains drifting from the juke box, memories of our past years added a little sadness at the thought of leaving. As the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" filled the gymnasium, the last record of four successful high school years was added to the class album of 1948.

Senior Honors . . .

TOP — ACTIVITY: Don Huising and Ruth Bjorkman discuss activities of the past. Because they were leaders in so many of our school activities even while they maintained high averages, the faculty voted them the winners of the activity award. ATHLETICS: Ben Shulla takes inventory of his much-used equipment. Having been one of Lockport High's best basketball players for the past four years would have merited him the athletic award. However, he was also a good baseball player and football star. BOTTOM—SCHOLARSHIP: Marilyn Morgan brings out a point of interest to Jane Skeldon. Topping the list of graduates as scholars; Jane became valedictorian and Marilyn became salutatorian. SCIENCE: Dan Shoop smiles at the results of his microscopic inspection. Perhaps another Einstein will emerge from him whom the science teachers voted most deserving of the science award.

Senior Honors . . .

TOP — NATIONAL ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY: Admiring the baseball trophies which they helped win are (front row) Harry Meurer, Ray Darin, Jerry Norton, Don Carollo, Ronald Johnson, (second row) Lee Bowersox, Don Waldvogel, Don Huising, Fred Beck, and Dan Shoop. Having earned an athletic letter and having maintained a scholastic average equal to or above the general average of the school for three consecutive semesters, these boys were eligible for membership in the National Athletic Scholarship Society. They were nominated by the coaches for citizenship as well as sportsmanship. BOTTOM—D.A.R.: Jane Skeldon. Dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism are the qualities which Jane had to possess to merit the D.A.R. award. She was one of three students chosen by the students and was finally selected by the faculty. PERFECT ATTENDANCE: "Time Waits for No One" is the theme song of Tom Flavin, Lavergne Rigoni, Norbert Strong, Anita Bachmann, John Likar, and Jim Corniels, observers of the hour as well as the day. There were no "ten o'clock scholars" in this group who had perfect attendance for the past four years. "Never a day went by" that they couldn't have been found at their desks.

You're the Tops

National Honor Society

Once more the familiar gold medal of the National Honor Society is proudly worn by the seniors whom the faculty honored for their scholarship, service, character, and leadership. Fifteen per cent of the total graduates ranking in the upper third of the class were elected.

Quill and Scroll

"I Could Write A Sonnet," at least that was what Mr. Pence and Miss Krusa thought of the seniors granted this award. Only members of "The Times" and the "Lock" who ranked in the upper third of the class were eligible. Recommendations of the sponsors were based on superior work in writing, editing, and business management.

On the Record . . .

We, the people, chose these students as our campus leaders by selecting them to head our various organizations. Leadership, scholarship, personality, and character development won them their honors. Energy, enthusiasm, and endurance helped them to successfully attain the goal of popular song leaders for our class in 1948.

No More Teachers, No More Books . . .

Six of our graduates are receiving their diplomas under the General Educational Development Plan which provides boys who were called to service before the completion of their high school education the opportunity to receive a high school diploma without further scholastic instruction. These boys must take the G.E.D. tests and score a minimum of forty-five in each section. The "Lock" congratulates these graduates, a good job in service, and a good job at home.

Junior Officers

Loren Humphrey, President; Betty Hoehn, Secretary; Sondra Kenney, Vice President; Edgar Ajamie, Treasurer.

Putting the junior class record on the turntable provided very good listening. Just "a little bit independent" as they entered the final stretch, the juniors entertained the seniors at a "Memories Prom" with silhouetted figures of outstanding high school scenes highlighting the decorations. And what a time we had laughing at the class comedy, "A Lucky Penny." Even though the seniors may be sighing in a slightly melancholy way that "somebody else is taking their place," they know what a fine senior class the "forty-niners" will be.

Sophomore Officers

Norman Rowley, Treasurer;
Dale Blaesing, President;
Jeanne Price, Vice President;
Lawrence Grant, Secretary.

One hundred and fifty strong the sophomores swung into their last year as underclassmen with confidence and assurance. Adding new records to the album which was begun in 1946, President Dale Blaesing, Vice President Jeanne Price, Secretary Lawrence Grant, and Treasurer Norman Rowley guided their class in their "Sentimental Journey" to the top.

Dividing their talents among the band, chorus, sports, Red Cross, and scholarship, they contributed actively to school life. If their winning ways are continued, they should rank with leading senior classes in 1950.

Freshmen Officers

John Pretto, President; Beverly Hill, Secretary; Pearl Ratkovich, Treasurer; John Thomas, Vice President.

As the 1948 "Lock" went to press, one hundred and seventy-four freshmen had lost their "new look" and were prepared for their role as sophomores. With John Pretto as president and Jack Thomas as vice president, Beverly Hill had many activities to record. And Pearl Ratkovich was in charge of the all important treasury.

Putting their best foot forward, the class led the honor roll for the first semester. Coach Rogers found sturdy new recruits for his athletic teams, and many new music makers were added to the band and chorus. With such a record as beginners even Drew Pearson could safely predict successful high school careers for these new students.

Readin', 'N Writin', 'N 'Rithmetic, Taught to the Tune of a Hick'ry Stick . . .

TOP: Leonard Tillman doesn't care what teacher says, "he can't do that sum." Ruth Bjorkman, Dena Zigrossi, Serena Etchison, and Lois Heeg practice improving their culinary art. Jo Ann Fletcher seems to disapprove as Lois Hammerschmidt, Jackie McCann, and Donna Krickovich demonstrate their — skill? Gene Pesavento and Dick Pavolich are giving the machine a good going-over. Admiring Jack Reiter's bird house, which is ready for a paint job are Bob Bromberek, Ralph Benck, Bill Francisco, and Dan Mendenhall. Jim Toncray locates Lockport for Bob Taylor. Very intent on their work in "ye olde English room" are Delores Janovsky, Phyllis Johnson, Jean Strainer, and Ronald Nemenich.

TOP: Billy Radich replaces brushes in an electric motor. Can't guess whose team will get the tip as Chuckie Sandeen tries desperately to outjump Donald Dominicio with Bill Belander refereeing and Harry Meurer and Bill Ellis awaiting the result. Edith Weatherford delves into the pages of a book of knowledge. Skeptical observers of Dorothy Carollo's experiment are Lawrence Carter and Phyllis Johnson. Deeply absorbed in their artistic work are Purp Bolerjack and Johnny Wierschem. Carol Stelling and Darlene Kreiger display their domestic ability in the sewing room. Jim Mahar and Jimmie Timm are busily sawing a piece of metal with a hacksaw. Pretty little typists are Letha McCalla and Joyce Fracaro.

There Must Be a Way . . .

If there were a way to improve student-faculty relationships or to improve student government, students at Lockport High knew that their student council members would find it. Since they were in charge of student government, theirs was the difficult task of selecting and correctly classifying the sundry records which composed the album of the school year.

This body was made up of representatives from each homeroom plus the heads of the main organizations of the school. Mr. Aiken acted as faculty adviser. Our council was also a member of the South Suburban Congress, a league composed of the councils of the various schools in the surrounding area.

Most of the projects which our council undertook were concerned with welfare campaigns such as the tuberculosis and cancer drives. The outstanding project of the year was the collection taken up for CARE. This was part of the "Adopt a School in Europe" plan.

As the records of the year were checked and filed, the council representatives relaxed knowing that the student records were free from friction, static, and harsh notes.

Friendship, Friendship . . .

With wartime activities no longer requiring the help of our Junior Red Cross, the members' thoughts were turned to means of promoting friendship among school children all over the world. Of course, there were still the programs and nut cups to be provided for the veterans in the hospitals.

President Peggy Warren and Secretary Jean Miller conducted the meetings like veterans, and Darwin Cowan saw to it that there were programs at all the athletic events. Sending Christmas boxes overseas was just one of their ways of showing children across the sea that America cared. Vice President Estelle Shepherd gave vent to her artistic tendencies, and another successful Red Cross formal was held in the fall Betty Hoehn sat in the counting house counting up the money.

Miss Goerz and Mrs. Gleason were the faculty sponsors.

It's the Talk of the Town . . .

Last fall the Lock staff of 1948 swung the needle into place and prepared to put in wax the records of the year. Miss Krusa and her staff kept the camera eye focused on all the activities of the seasons. Under the direction of Mrs. Gleason the literary staff wrote and proofread reams of material. And when the last note had been recorded, only then did the staff realize the amount of work required in compiling a yearbook. Once more the yearbook sold for only one-half the actual cost. School dances and the coke machine were two of our financiers.

Every member of this year's staff was equally determined to have this "Lock" live up to the gold medal standards of its predecessor. As they slid another twelve-inch record into the album, they sincerely hoped that it would move into first place in the annual hit parade.

Time on My Hands . . .

"Time on My Hands" was the theme song of Mr. Pence as he directed his senior journalists in editing the school newspaper. Rising above previous high standards, the staff distributed "The Times" approximately once a month to eager students who anticipated breaking into print through scholastic achievements, activities, or through the ever popular column, "The Good Earth," which yielded the campus dirt. An active exchange system with forty other schools kept the writers on their toes. Even with the rising cost of living the price of five cents per issue was maintained.

TOP: Looking for new ideas in the "National Echo" are Dan Shoop, co-editor; Mr. Pence, sponsor; and Lavergne Rigoni, editor. Aimin' for Entertainin' . . .

If the old adage "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" were true, the Literary Society was careful to see that Lockport High had no dull boys or girls. Through careful selections they provided the students with entertaining and educational assembly programs. A variety of selections brought us the Howells, famous international glass blowers, a meeting with Nutchuk, an Eskimo musician and author, and James Dutton, artist and teacher, who entertained with marimba selections from the works of Chopin, Bach, Brahms, Mendelssohn and timely popular selections. The always popular magic and ventriloquism acts were presented by Mr. Loring and Kathryne Campbell. An inspiration to everyone was attractive nineteen year old Joan Bishop, a mezzo soprano, who held the distinction of having been a quiz kid.

President Don Huising, Vice President Walter Clapper, Secretary Warren Lohmar, and Treasurer Marilyn Johnson assisted our faculty sponsors Mr. Johnsonius and Mr. Caneva.

What's Cookin', Cookie? . . .

The rush hour at L.T.H.S. began at 12:15 P.M. when James Kegley and Loren Humphrey directed traffic into the cafeteria. No one slipped by the eagle eye of ticket taker, Ray Darin. The students welcomed back our able cooks, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Woock, and no one complained of any serious after effects of samples from the cooking classes.

Keeping things moving with assembly line precision and speed, Shirley Shipp, Gertrude Pehland, Frances Mescher, Mary Pesavento, Cordelia Flores and Arlene Reiter, nevertheless, managed to serve attractive trays. The faculty voted Don Huising "Waiter of the Year" for his excellent service. Law and order were maintained by the outdoor and cafeteria committees. Strains of the "Happy Birthday Song" were heard frequently as another successful year passed.

You Can't Beat Turkey in the Straw, By-crackey . . .

A few of the old-timers would have a hard time convincing the Quarterback Club of that, particularly after the night of November 10, 1947, when the players and their guests met at the annual football banquet. Turkey was the order of the day and plenty of it.

The banquet was held in the school cafeteria with the help of Mrs. Young, her cooking classes, and the boys themselves who blinded a few "spuds" by removing their eyes. Coach Lindberg used his navy experience in shaping up his crew, and believe it or not, our rough and tough football players even turned artistic with their table decorations.

Toastmaster Edward Flink kept the ball in the air, while the president of the Quarterback Club, Ben Shulla, with Joseph Fitzgerald, the representative of the fathers, and the other important speakers were lined up at the speaker's table. Big "Red" Grange was the sport's highlight of the day. At halftime Coach Lindberg and Coach Rogers awarded the football letters, and after that night we noticed many of our boys and their favorite girls sporting these awards.

The final whistle was blown after the players and their guests had seen the movies of the Michigan vs. Illinois game of 1946.

TOP: Mrs. and Mr. Smith applaud Mr. Worst while the Canevas, Master of Ceremonies Aiken, and Clare Reeves, band president, listen. Coach Lindberg awards Ben Shulla his varsity football letter. The happy smiles of the most valuable football player, Don Waldvogel, Coach Lindberg, Co-captain Gulden, "Red" Grange, and Co-captain Huising are the after-effects of a delicious turkey dinner. Master of Ceremonies Aiken amuses Reverend Bengston while board members, Mr. Swenson and Doctor Viskocil, tune in.
MIDDLE: Coach Lindberg and Athletic Director Flink register one thousand on the laugh-o-meter for "Red" Grange's story, but Coach Rogers and Nancy Spangler are interested in epicurean delights. Bernice Kluska serves the three Shoops. (How did Harry Anderson get to be the middle man?)
BOTTOM: Mr. Smith, Mr. Worst, and Mrs. Houseknecht listen while Joliet's band director, Bruce Houseknecht, has the floor. Jesse Morris, the Johnsons and the McCanns are in a pensive mood. Nancy Spangler bites her lip while the Fitzgeralds dig in. Ruth Bjorkman takes care of the Shullas. Mr. Flink and "Red" Grange are in close quarters while Coach Rogers awards "Portermite" Joe Fitzgerald his letter.

A Knife, a Fork and a Spoon . . .

Just a little tired of playing while others ate, our band decided to sponsor a banquet this year and get their just desserts. And even Emily Post couldn't have done a better job with the arrangements. All band members and their parents were automatically on the guest list. President Clare Reeves and his band members had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. Houseknecht, the director of the famous Joliet High School Band, his wife, Reverend Bengston, and the faculty chairmen of the various classes.

Mr. Aiken's dry wit kept the guests amused while they waited for the "Turkey Trot," and Mr. Caneva sat back and let someone else play the director. Patsy Pickett was thrilled when she became the winner of the radio, the door prize for the evening.

Mrs. Young and her cooking classes helped once more, and this time they served food for the champions. After a pleasant evening of songs, the band members went home to let another pleasant memory linger awhile.

With a Song in Their Hearts . . .

"Poor Johnny One Note" had no place in Mr. Caneva's chorus. Always busy with new and original programs the members devoted part of their lunch period and after school hours to practicing. In addition to the Christmas concert the chorus presented the operetta "In Grand Old Switzerland." President Jane Skeldon, Vice President George Woock, Secretary Sara Rini, and Treasurer Lorina Hosbach arranged the chorus parties besides their official duties.

Within the chorus there were two smaller groups, a sextette and a trio. The members of the sextette were Marilyn Morgan, Lavergne Rigoni, Ruth Bjorkman, Estelle Shepherd, Jane Skeldon, and Betty Jean Warnick. Rivalling the Andrew sisters with their trio renditions were Betty Jean Warnick, Ruth Bjorkman, and Levergne Rigoni. These groups rated number one on the local hit parade.

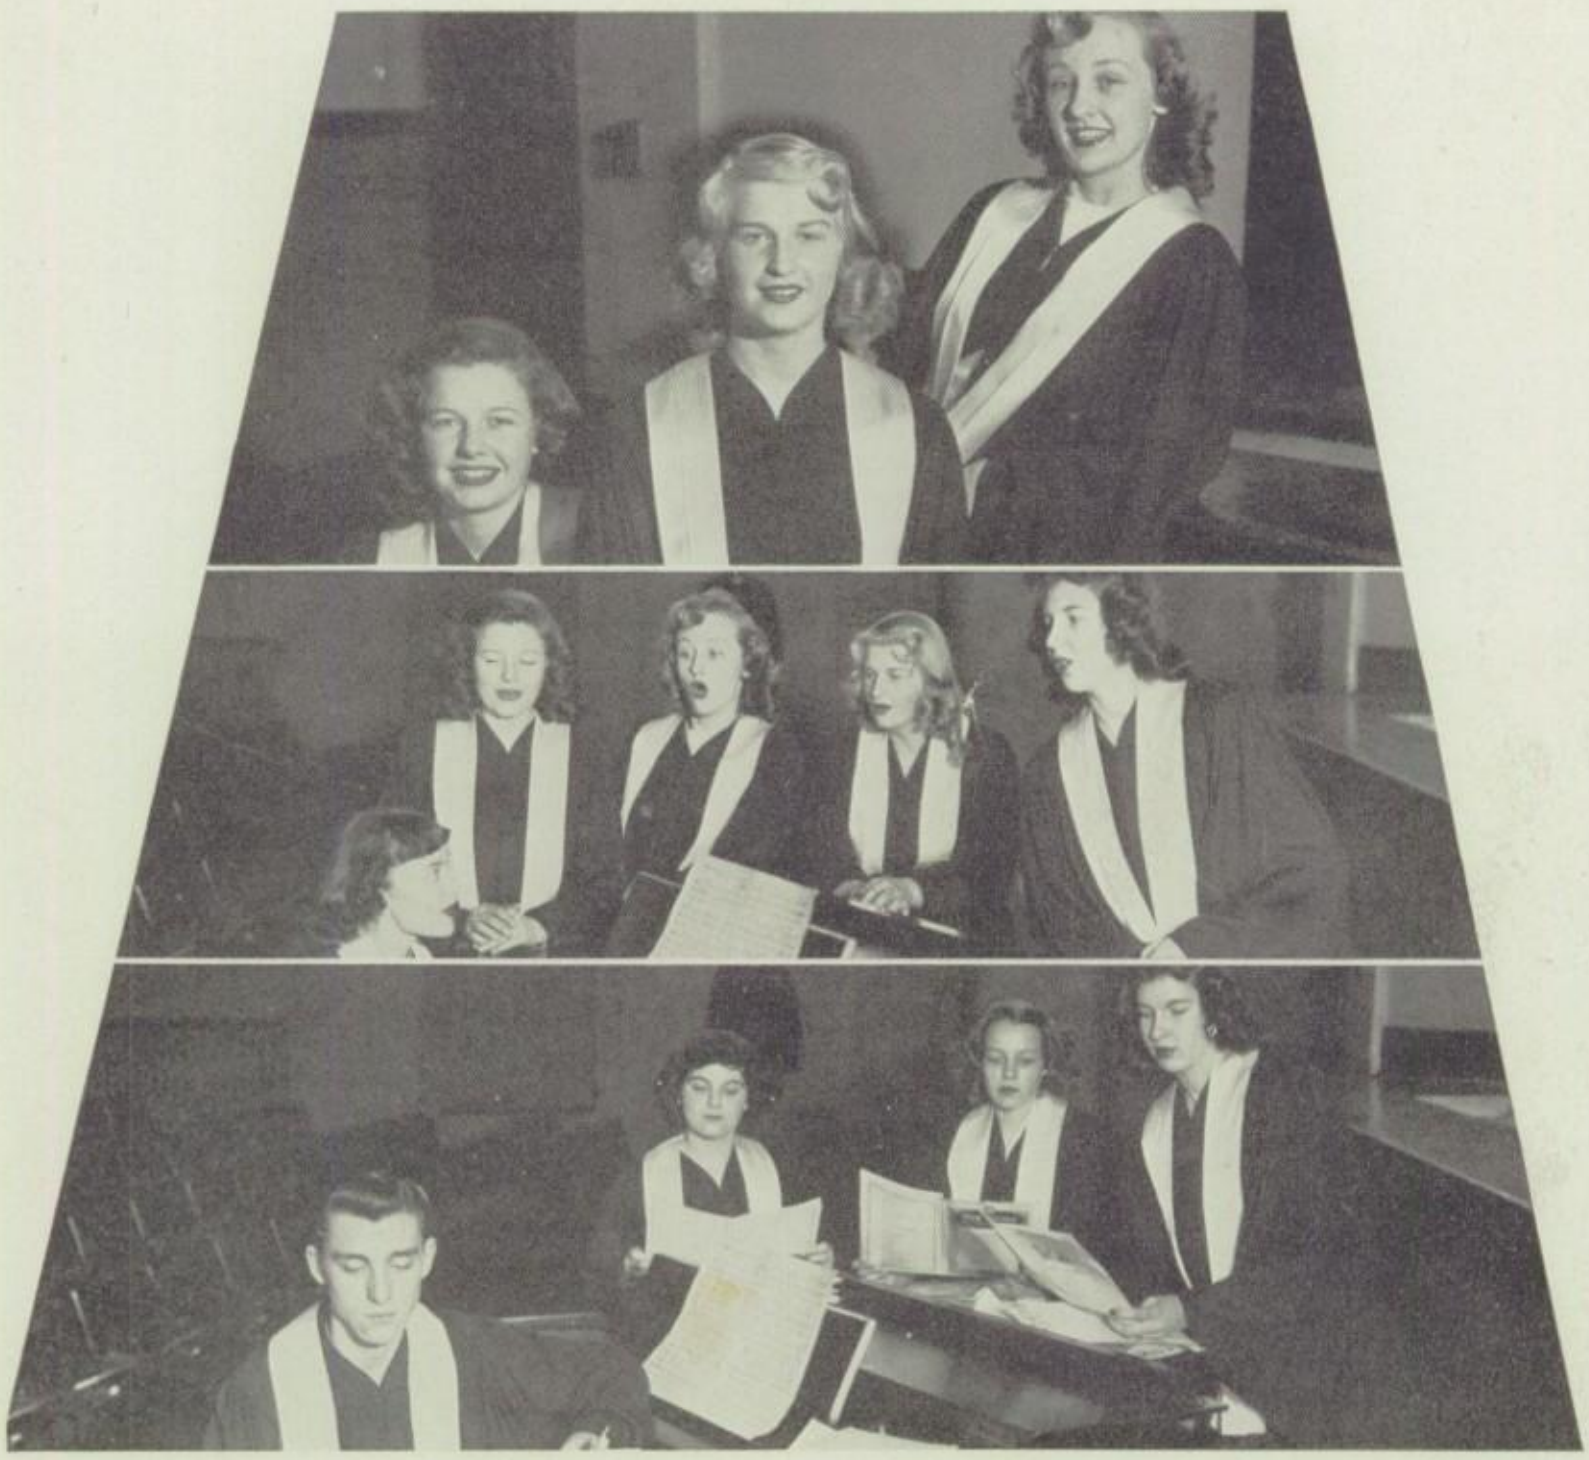
Conductor Caneva

Music, Maestro, Please . . .

When "Ernie" takes to the bandstand, music is what we hear and music the way we like it. Under his "big stick" policy we all had a chance to learn that music was meant for everyone. Since our first meeting with "Ernie" in our freshman year, many of us have spun the dials of our radios not only to mellow jazz but to classical and semi-classical selections. And we have learned that "some of the best things in life are free."

TOP—TRIO: L. Rigoni, R. Bjorkman, B. Warnick. SYNCHRONETTES: E. Shepherd, L. Rigoni, B. Warnick, R. Bjorkman, J. Skeldon. (Not photographed: M. Morgan.) CHORUS CFFICERS: G. Woock, S. Rini, L. Hosbach, J. Skeldon.



Strike Up the Band . . .

Listen to the record of the Lockport Township High School Band, and let it speak for itself: winners of first place in the state contest, retained the honor of being the governor's band, won second place at the summer contest at Riverview, winners for ten years in the state contest. Mr. Caneva, musical director, has managed to convey his love of music to his students and also his pride in his splendid organization. Whether cutting fancy capers on the football field or presenting the annual Christmas concert, the band was equally efficient.

All we could say after listening to our band was, "We never get enough of that wonderful stuff."

The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round . . .

Lockport High's orchestra was made up of a select group of band members chosen by Mr. Caneva. Whether it was a waltz, a samba, a tango, or just plain jive, our orchestra satisfied. A fifteen minute intermission at play time found them providing us with our favorite melodies. For their musical background in our operetta they deserved laurels. As music makers they ranked with the best.

Beauty in Swingtime . .

The sweet musical notes presented here are just our way of saying, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody." Gay and lighthearted they will linger in our memories like the familiar strains of the haunting Victor Herbert melodies we all love. Here we present beauty for the eye and music for the ear.

In Grand Old Switzerland . . .

On the nights of March 18 and 19 the operetta, "In Grand Old Switzerland," was presented through the combined efforts of the chorus, band, and orchestra. With Mr. Caneva waving the baton the musical was destined for success from its very beginning.

Mid the setting of the Alps, Herr Nops and Herr Bolliger, two old men, became the rivals for the hand of an American tourist, Mrs. Miller. The children of the rivals were in love, but the rivalry of their fathers presented all kinds of obstacles. Through a plan which Mrs. Miller, her two children, and the two Swiss children hatched, the two men finally regained their amiable dispositions and their friendship.

Le's Dance, Students! Le's Dance! . .

Many were the ballerina skirts that whirled as we danced about the gym at the October formal presented by the Junior Red Cross. But our hearts were "filled with wild anticipation" as we arrived at the "Memories Prom" given by the juniors. "After the ball was over" we had a night full of memories of filmy formals, tuxedos, sweet and sentimental tunes, and a "wonderful night to remember."

There's No Business . . .

Varying from the ever popular adolescent themes for high school plays, the senior class presented "Silas Smidge from Turnip Ridge." There is really a hot time in the small village just north of the Ozarks when Silas Smidge from County Clay in "Ioway" tries to remove discord from Harmony Junction. There are really "many wrongs that need a-righting." But Silas' homecoming is finally successful, and there is no more "feudin' a fussin' or a fightin' " in the Ozarks.

The play cast was as follows:

Neurasthenia Twiggs—A stage-struck hired girl—Estelle Shepherd, Peggy Warren. Miss Simplicity McPheeters — Thaddeus McPheeter's sister — Ruth Bjorkman, Darlene Curran. Judy—A pretty seventeen-year-old orphan—Patsy Pickett, Irene Petges. Florence McPheeters—Thaddeus' aristocratic daughter—Clarice Reed, RoseMary Van Horn. Thaddeus McPheeters—The village Shylock—Harold McCall, William Barrett. Ralph Thornhill—A young minister—David Ross. Enid Thornhill—His sister—Barbara Donnelly, Joann Cogswell. Leola Pixley—The village postmistress—Lavergne Rigoni, Marilyn Morgan. Ben Bruce—A young farmer, Silas' nephew—Robert McCoy, Tom Flavin. Silas Smidge—From Turnip Ridge, County Clay in Ioway—Don Waldvogel. Wayne Kendall—Thaddeus' stepson, a black sheep—Carl Muehlbauer. Oswald Gorlick—Clerk in Thaddeus' store—Richard White. Miss Muriel Armitage—Judy's aunt—Ruth Kolmodin, Helen Becker.

Like Show Business . . .

"A Lucky Penny" under the direction of Mr. Johnsonius kept local audiences holding their sides as Penny, the young heroine, learned the effect that her "art for art's sake" had on her boy friend Kerry, her saxophone playing father, a reducing maid, and her sympathetic mother. And what happened when grandma tried to straighten things out only made matters worse.

As Shakespeare so aptly put it, "All's Well That Ends Well," and "A Lucky Penny" ended in the true spirit of the comedy quite happily.

Members of the cast were:

Penny Pringle—a pretty problem—Sharon Grossklaus, Mabel Speaker. Lydia Pringle—her mother—Geraldine Allen, Georgene Anderson. Caleb Pringle—her father—Fred Manglesdorf, Walter Clapper. Joanna—her best friend—Margaret Blechschmidt, Marjorie Johnson. Kerry—her boy friend—Charles Aumiller, Bernard Segatto. Greg—Kerry's pal—Ben Kokosz, Kenneth Haberkorn. Gram—herself—Delores Boettcher, Donna Timm. Miss Haskins—a visitor — Gene Miller, Beverly Wilson. Mr. Daly—a neighbor—Dan Stanfill. O'Shane—a policeman—Peter Konicek. Flash— a photographer—James Burnsworth. Models—Georgina—Norma Lindstrom, Raquel Escobedo. Vera—Margaret Oxley, Lois Rakar. Susette—Betty Hoehn, Mary Petrucci. Hulda—the maid—Shirley Shipp, Edith Weatherford.

Athletic Director Flink

Someone to Tell My Troubles to . . .

Genial and affable Mr. Flink takes care of our trouble-shooters. As the director of athletics he is the most enthusiastic booster of the school sport's program, and his story seems to be another of the local boy makes good variety. Local sports enthusiasts know him well, particularly on the baseball diamond. At Lockport High we admire him because he teaches that it is not only important to win the game, but it is also important to adhere to the rules of good sportsmanship. Fair play is his motto.

You've Got to Accentuate the Positive . . .

Never taking no for an answer was the policy of the Athletic Board of Control as they worked behind the lines to determine the policies which helped make our athletic teams a success. The faculty, the student body, the G.A.A., and the athletes were represented on this board. Their duties were to price tickets, to provide uniforms, to hold cheerleader elections, to schedule games, and to provide transportation.

During the past year, they secured new suits and helmets for our football team and new basketball uniforms. Joining forces with the Quarterback Club, they presented a banquet in the fall.

Don Waldvogel, Coach Lindberg, Ruth Kolmodin, Chairman Bill Rodeghero, and Coach Rogers review rules with Athletic Director Flink (seated).

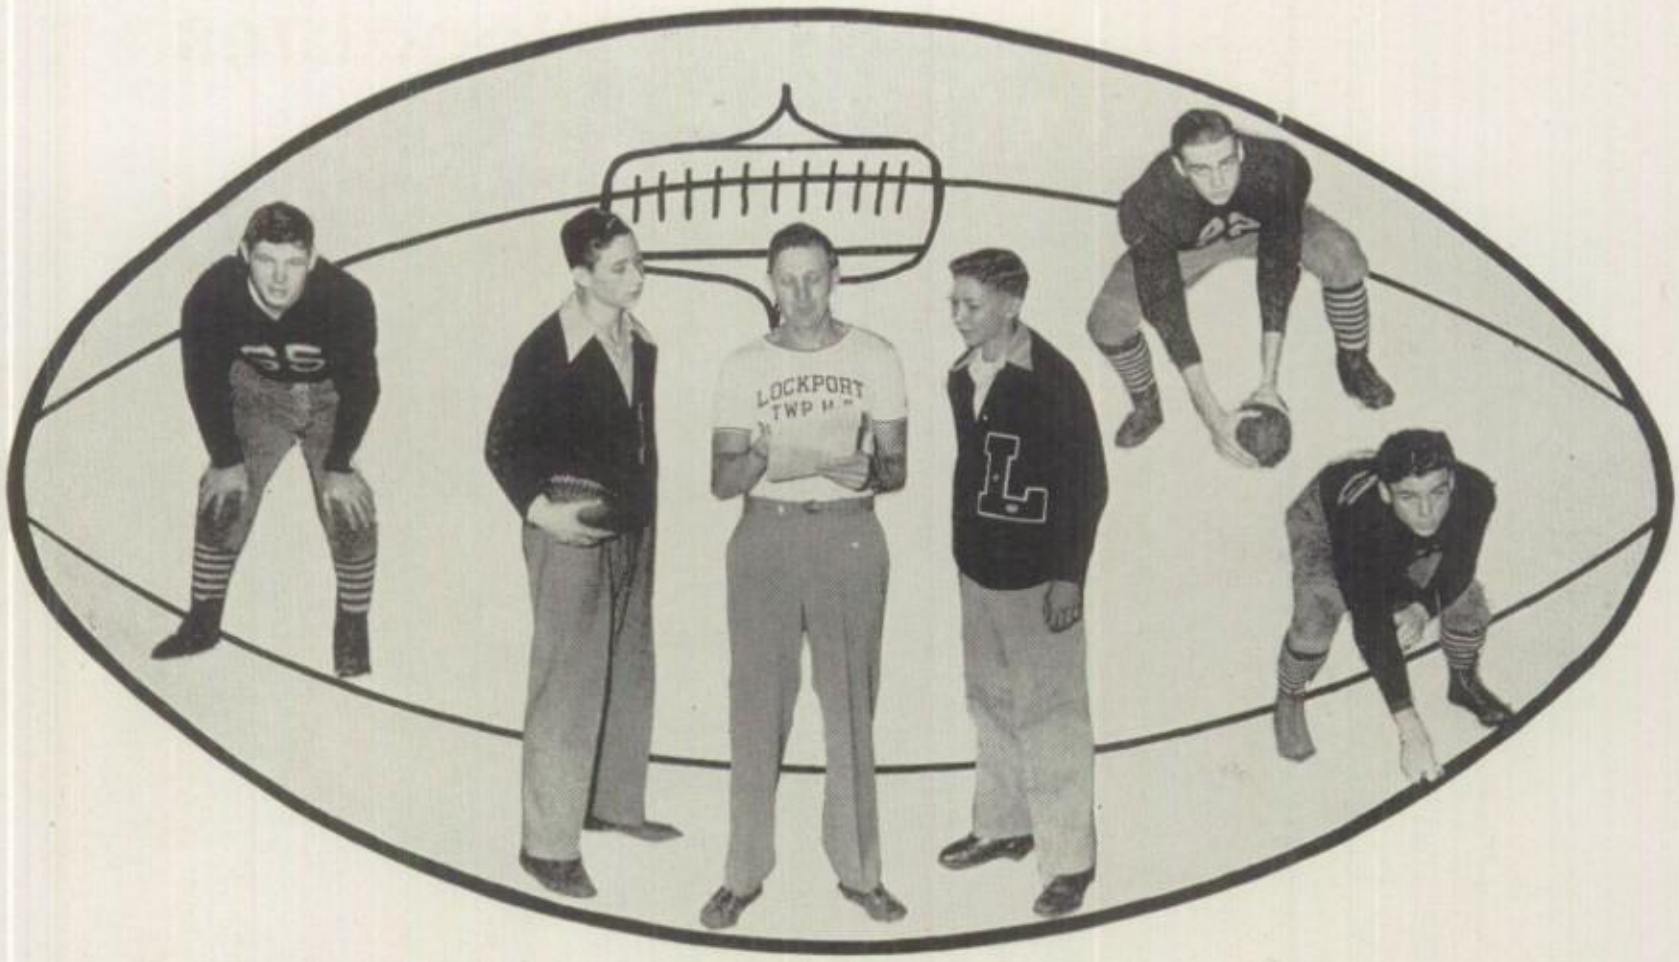
Porter Peppers . . .

"Victry, victry is our cry!

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!"

blared out of the campus juke box as our four veteran cheerleaders, Donna Dickinson, Barbara Donnelly, Sharon Grossklaus, and David Walden stepped out to "make 'em yell" for the varsity squad. Newly-elected Betty Carroll, Betty Hoehn, Ann Lacey, and Elaine Melson sparked the fresh-soph team. No wonder our boys had the support of all local spectators.



Most Valuable Don Waldvogel, Manager Richard Eichhorn, Coach Lindberg, Manager Richard Hosbach, Co-captains Don Huising and Herb Gulden.

We Never Fumble,

We Never Fall . . .

Under the capable direction of Coach Lindberg the Porters moved up on the hit parade for this season with a record of four victories and two tied scores. With enthusiastic crowds cheering them to victory on crisp autumn afternoons only one defeat added a sour note to the otherwise perfect record.

Batavia, Bradley, Lemont, and Pullman Tech were conquered by the teamwork of Rodeghero, Weatherford, Gulden, Huising, Holden, Klainsek, and Meurer, our linemen. Shulla, Lane, Petro, and Waldvogel chalked up the scores for the backfield. Morgan Park Military Academy and St. Charles refused to yield and tied scores were recorded. But an avenging Hinsdale team succeeded in scratching our record.

Co-captains Herb Gulden and Don Huising were noted for their hard playing and fine sportsmanship, and Don Waldvogel was honored as the most valuable player. For a fine finale the annual football banquet was held, and letters were presented to the following boys: F. Beck, T. Bolerjack, L. Bowersox, D. Carollo, T. Flavin, H. Gulden, R. Holden, D. Huising, R. Johnson, J. Kegley, L. Klainsek, R. Lane, R. McCoy, H. Meurer, J. Norton, R. Pesavento, E. Petro, J. Pluth, W. Price, J. Ragusa, W. Rodeghero, D. Ross, C. Sandeen, B. Shulla, D. Shoop, E. If I Only Had a Match

One of the most important functions of the Quarterback Club, which was composed of the varsity football players, was performed by their own Board of Control. This group worked towards maintaining good sportsmanship and seeing that the boys lived up to the athletic rules. Sponsoring post game dances for the funds for the annual football banquet was one of their major activities. Every player on the squad was proud to be a member of this club. With Ben Shulla as their leader, the club was an important factor in maintaining discipline on athletic trips. Keep up the good work, boys.

In to Win . . .

Down the field our fresh-soph squad came last fall with enthusiasm and determination. Playing many of the teams which the varsity squad met, they ended up the season with a record of two victories, three defeats, and one tied score. The Meurers made it pretty much of a family affair when Bill Meurer became captain and John Ed was elected the most valuable player at the end of the season.

At the end of the season letters were awarded by Coach Rogers to the following: A. Artisuk, J. Bachmann, D. Blaesing, J. Butler, A. Burcenski, J. Eaker, R. Ferguson, J. Fitzgerald, L. Grant, J. Grid Action . . .

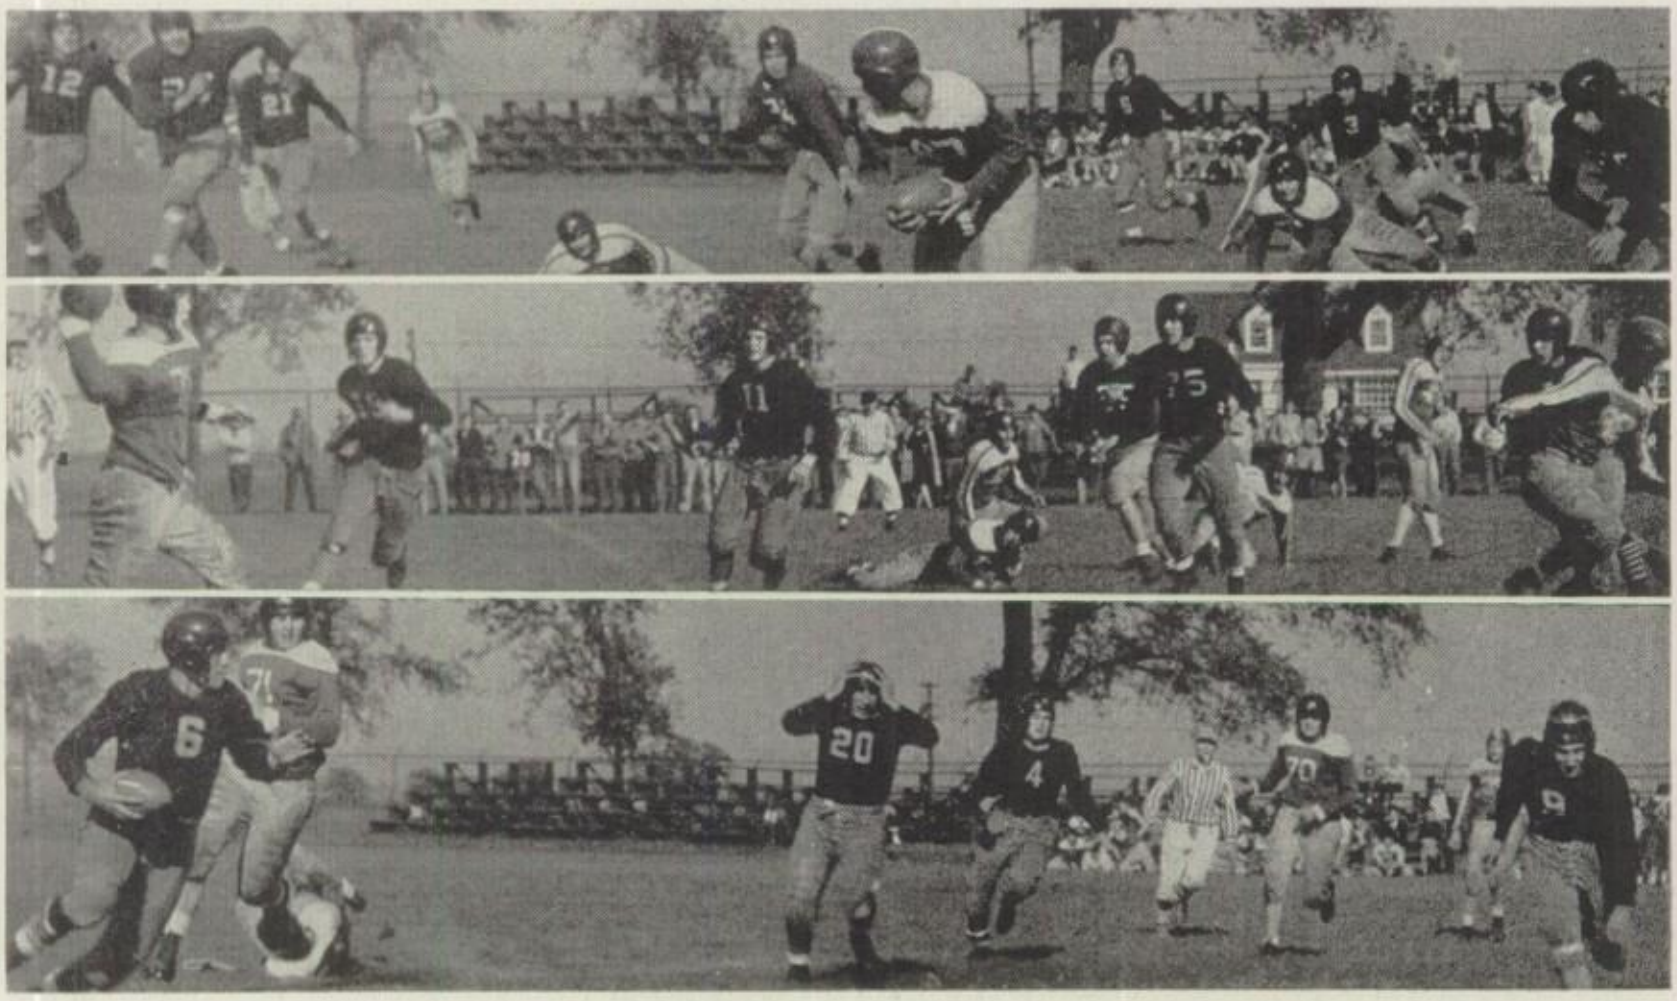
LOCKPORT 0 ST. CHARLES 0

Opening their season under the lights at the Geneva Field the Porters held the Charlesmen scoreless with a strong defense. Lane and Ross gave the crowds a taste of break away running, but they couldn't step across the goal line.

LOCKPORT 12 BATAVIA 7

Dave Ross sparked the team with a 70 yard run to score on an intercepted pass. This was really a heartbreaker for Batavia, but our boys played an impressive brand of football to earn their victory.

TOP: With Bradley men scattered over the field, Fred Beck and Jim Kegley close in for the tackle. Lee Bowersox is a little too late to block a long Bradley pass. Elmo Petro slips by one man as Ray Pesavento, Loren Humphrey, and Bill Colonna begin to line interference.



LOCKPORT 20 BRADLEY 0

Our Oilmen defeated a weak Bradley team in their first home game. Coach Lindberg started his second string, but our regulars, Lane, Petro, and Waldvogel chalked up the scores while Shulla dropped the placements.

LOCKPORT 19 PULLMAN TECH 7

Scoring another hit Lockport dropped Pullman Tech from the undefeated ranks by handing them a 19-7 defeat at the Athletic Field. Pluth started the Porter scoring with a completed pass from Shulla to successfully clinch an 80 yard play. Lane and Petro crossed the goal line for two Porter touchdowns, and Shulla kicked the extra point.

LOCKPORT 26 LEMONT 0

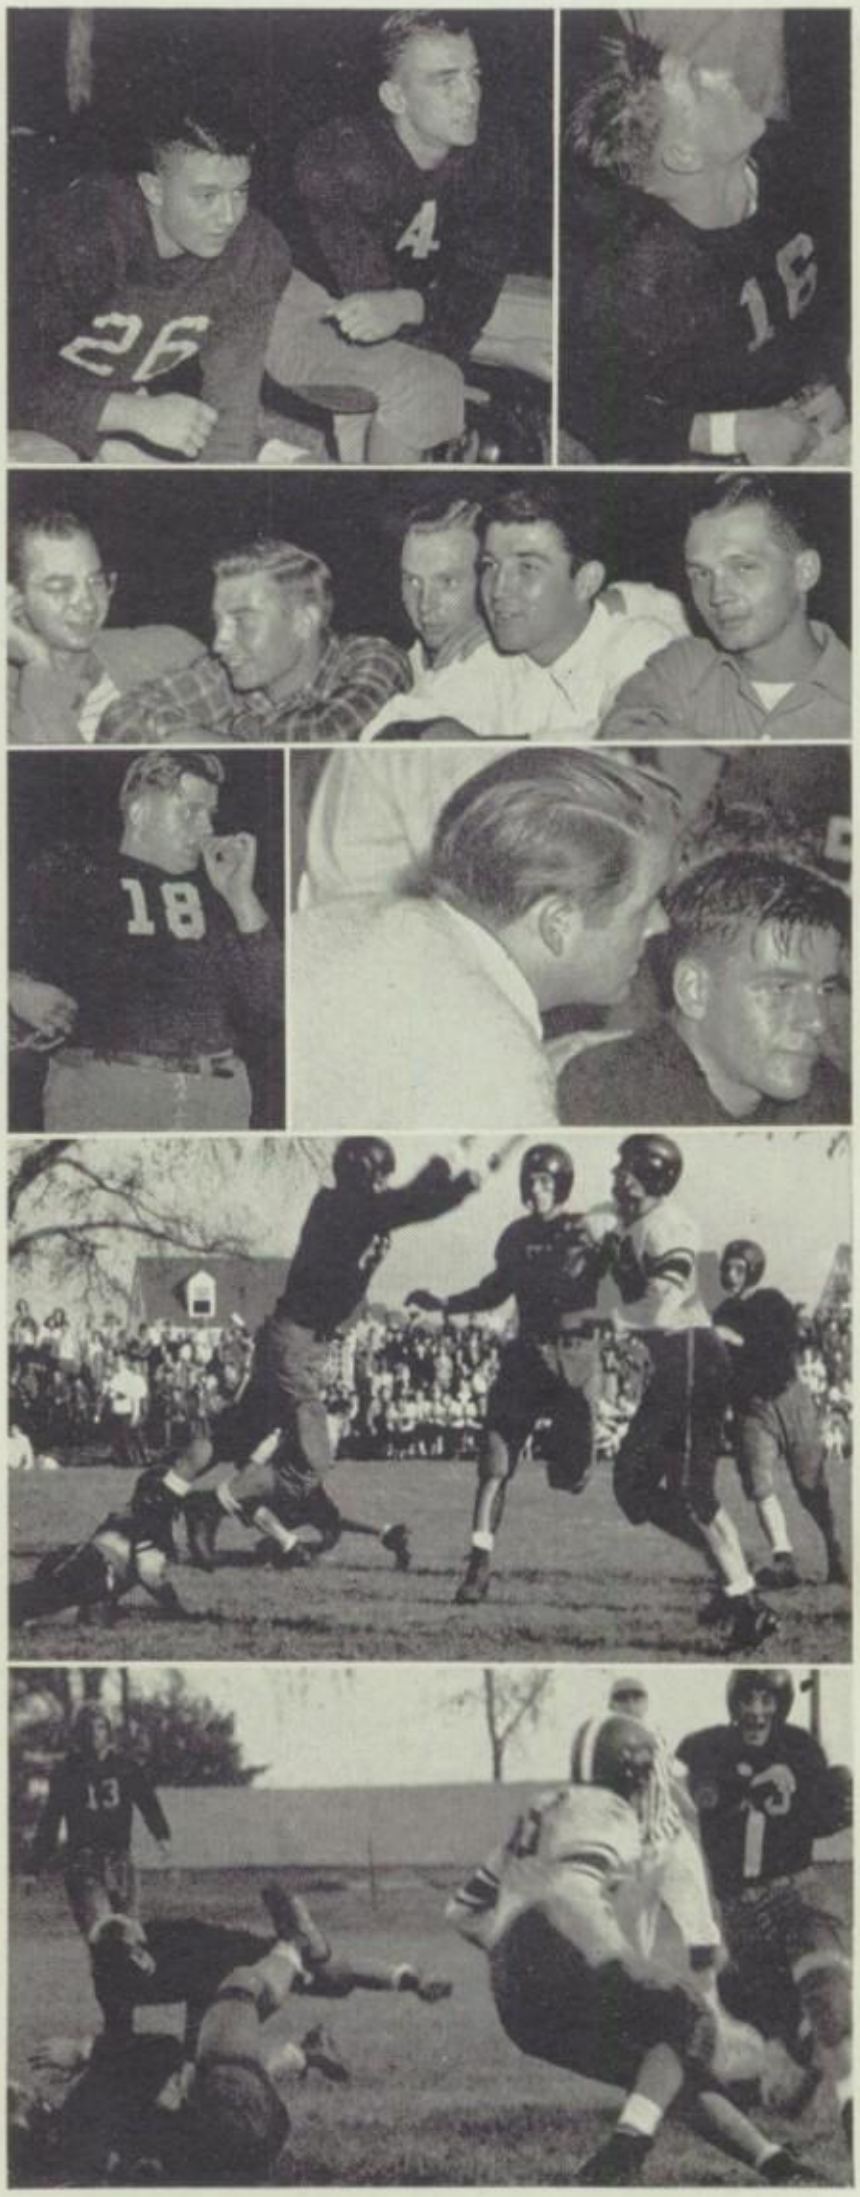
The Maroons crushed their neighboring rivals in the dedication game at the newly enlarged and lighted Lemont field. Hard driving halfbacks, Petro and Lane, were supported by the teamwork of Gulden, Huising, and Pluth. Once more the Porters left the field undefeated.

LOCKPORT 7 MORGAN PARK 7

Both teams boasting undefeated seasons met on the Lockport gridiron. The Cadets and Porters fought hard, and Ross finally scored on a pass from Shulla. The hard work of Rodeghero, Klainsek, Holden, and Weatherford kept the final score tied at 7.

LOCKPORT 0 HINSDALE 32

Hinsdale's strong eleven, avenging a 46-6 swamping handed to them by the Maroons in '46, conquered the Porters to end our season with a sour note. Tough luck, boys.



TOP: Fred Beck and Loren Humphrey await the substitute call. Things are looking up for Leo Klainsek. Alumni George Resis, John Bjorkman, Bob Dasenbrock, Tom Kenny, and Bob Hoyt enjoy the Batavia game. Did your plate slip, Charlie? "It's not so bad, Elmo," says Lowry. John Pluth, Bill Rodeghero, and Don Weatherford vainly attempt to stop a Morgan Park pass. "Flash" Lane, without assistance, begins his famous left-end run.

Splash! In the Well! . . .

And the Lockport Cagers rang up another basket on the scoreboard. The "Big Five", Huising, Shulla, Petro, Humphrey, and Pluth, helped to ring up a victory against Joliet, to upset Cal City in the first game of the tournament play-off, and accepted victory and defeat with equally good sportsmanship.

Our team played a total of 23 games winning 11 and dropping 12 to their opponents. Local fans still had their keen enthusiasm for basketball at the close of the season. The thrill of the season came when the "Big Five", without substitution, defeated Joliet 33 to 32 on the home floor. In the South Suburban league the Porters won 4 games and lost 6.

Their non-conference opponents were: St. Charles, Mooseheart, East Aurora, Joliet, Lemont, Downers Grove, Alumni, Morgan Park Military Academy, and Harvey. In addition they played in the Calumet City Christmas Tournament and the State Regional Tournament.

At the end of the season the team voted Don Huising, honorary captain, and Ben Shulla, most valuable player.

John Pluth and Elmo Petro get set for the rebound as Ben Shulla and Don Huising watch a long shot by a Joliet player.

Always a Winnin',
Always a Grinnin' . . .

Last fall Coach Rogers had the difficult task of assembling a squad without any returning lettermen. With the help of boys who had had plenty of experience in grade school and with an abundance of hard work, a winning combination was finally found.

The Portermites had a very successful season in which they won fourteen games and lost only five. Entering in the South Suburban league conference, they came out with second place honors. Up until the last league game the quintet rested in first place. But the Bloom Trojans copped the title in a very close game with a score of 34 to 30. Having worked hard to develop a fine squad, Coach Rogers ended up the season singing, "If I Should Lose You."

There were "Heartaches" for Joliet as Petro, Shulla, Huising, Humphrey, Pluth, and Rodeghero put the ball in the net. However, our boys didn't smile after the Kankakee game.

Hardwood Scopes . . .

Lockport's hard fighting Porters set back the highly favored Joliet Steelmen by a close one point margin 33-32. The Oilmen showed superior fight and rebounding ability as led by Elmo Petro. Under the back boards the much smaller Lockport five grabbed the majority of rebounds.

Outscored from the field 15 buckets to 11, the all important free throws came through for the Porters as they dropped 11 to the rival's 2.

Hot shot Ben Shulla took Lockport's scoring honors with eleven points.

Jumping at the Track . . .

Once more the thinclads hit the turf for their second post-war season. In strictly allegro tempo Coach Lindberg's cindermen have gotten off to a fast start in spring training.

Mr. Lindberg has entered his boys in seven meets. Sprints, relays, field events, broad jumps, high jumps, the hurdles, and pole vaulting are the events offered to sport fans. In high spirits our jet-propelled runners prepare to meet their opponents in the following track schedule:

April 3....18th annual relays at Oak Park
April 13.....Triangle meet at Kankakee
April 20.....Triangle meet at Calumet City
April 24.....11th annual Wheaton relays
May 4.....Quadrangle meet at Bloom
May 7..... District Meet
May 21.....South Suburban track meet at Blue Island

Loren Humphrey clears the hurdle.

Take Me Out . . .

There may have been gloom in Mudville when the "mighty Casey struck out," but Coach Flink hopes to dispel all Lockport's fears and gloom with his five returning letter men from last year's squad plus the many enthusiastic players eager to "suit up." So far the weatherman has proved the team's worst rival. As the "Lock" goes to press, "we'll root, root for the home team and if they don't win it's a shame." When the umpire cries, "Batter up!" our boys will meet these teams from the South Suburban league and our neighboring rivals.

to the Ball Game . . .

Once more Coach Rogers opens his training camp for future varsity players. Coach Roger's boys are entered in the South Suburban league with the varsity and will play the same number of league games. Many of these boys will become varsity players, the hopes of Mr. Flink. Just remember boys, "It's one, two, three strikes and you're out at the old ball game."

Sink or Flink! . . .

Twenty-four Lockport High students found that they were really in the swim when they enrolled in the life-saving course sponsored by the American Red Cross and conducted by Mr. Flink. Swimming ten lengths of the pool was not the greatest requirement. These mermaids and mermen had to know blocks, releases, grips, carries, surface dives, and how to disrobe in deep water. They were taught to exercise common sense in choosing the time and place for a swim. Our fine pool could not be used for a more practical purpose than the teaching of water safety. American Red Cross Life Saving Certificates were awarded after the successful completion of the course.

Inside Lockport High . . .

Too often when we think of athletics we think only of the varsity squads and their competition with neighboring rivals. But that neglects the large field of intramural sports where our boys had the chance to compete with their classmates. In these games they learned the rules of good sportsmanship, an essential quality for an admirable athlete.

With over 100 boys giving up part of their lunch hour to play basketball, the halls were never quiet. Lockport's own Whiz Kids copped the basketball trophy chalking up one more honor for the senior class. The Sterling Park'rs won for the sophomore class. It was all in fun, and the boys had a great time proving to themselves that the lunch period was really the best during the day.

Miss Olson, supervisor

Almost every afternoon at 3:15 we found Miss Olson waiting to direct another G.A.A. activity. Gym was not a wearisome hour when you were square dancing to "Make Mine Country Style" or learning to tumble (the skill seems to be in not tumbling).

Miss Olson's bowling score is right up where we all wish that ours were. As sponsor of the girls' most popular activity, she has helped most of us to become enthusiastic sports' fans. No wonder we waited for 3:15. That's when our fun began.

Y-ike Us, Nobody Like Us . . .

The Girls Athletic Association was one of the most important activities of our school. Volleyball, bowling, tumbling, swimming, golf, and basket shooting added many hours of fun to our school days. Since competition helps to keep the ball rolling, the girls entered into telegraphic bowling and basket shooting tournaments. And class rivalry ran wild with the inter-class meets. Ruth Bjorkman succeeded her sister as president and did a mighty fine job.

Once again the G. A. A. held open house for the mothers, and then the girls had a chance to put their wares on exhibition. With after school parties adding to the fun, the G.A.A. was never at a loss for new members. Miss Olson sponsored the organization and helped to develop a love of sports and good sportsmanship.

Now Is the Hour . . .

"And we must say goodbye," for we have finished our musical journey through Lockport High. The "Lock" staff sincerely hopes that in years to come you will enjoy the refrains and memories recorded here. The clock on the wall says that it is June 4, 1948, 3:15 P. M.—the end of a pleasant day and the end of our high school careers.

We send "One Dozen Roses" to the Harrington Studio, the Joliet Republican Printing Company, the Pontiac Engraving and Electrotype Company, and the S. K. Smith Cover Company for their painstaking efforts in the production of this book. To Miss Krusa and Mrs. Gleason we offer our heartiest thanks for helping us make our hopes a reality with the successful completion of the 1948 "Lock".

Another wedding snap includes Kenny Haberkorn, Thurman Bolerjack, Bob Tomaska, Tom Flavin, and Dave Ross. Projector operators, Monica Taylor, Jack Cŏon, Bob Shoop, and Bill Richards practice operating the movie projector. "Spring is in the air", so say Lee Bowersox and Frances Lane, Joyce Cave and Doug Smith. BOTTOM: The Clown Band, composed of Dale DelSasso, Don Johnston, Joseph Drick, Peter Titre, George Woock, John Wierschem, Robert Nordenberg and Robert Hiller, give an exhibition. On their way to their classes are gruesome twosomes, Ray Darin and Jean Miller, Sharon Grossklaus and Jack Wilson, and Lois Rakar and Don Huising. Donna Dickinson and Bill Rodeghero, Herb Gulden and Dolores Wagner enjoy their spare time during the noon hour.

for preserving a pictorial record of the school year. We are proud of having played a part in the production of this yearbook and know that you and your alumni will cherish the many memories it retains.

You are to be complimented for your initiative and enthusiasm which has played such an important part in its production. Pontiac craftsmen have tried sincerely to crown your efforts with success by rendering service and quality in the production of the photo-engravings in this book.
